Members of Expedition Try

Waves Sweep Over 449-Ton Vessel.

By the Associated Press.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Sept. 17.—Capt. Jean Baptiste Charcot, distinguished French explorer, and 38 others lost their lives yesterday, after their Arctic expedition ship, the Pourquoi Pas, was ripped to pieces by a hurricane off the coast of Iceland.

Only one man lived to tell the tale—Eugene Geonidec, a ship's petty officer.

The Pourquoi Pas, 449-ton wooden sailing ship, returning from a five-month expedition, ran into the hurricane on the way to Copenhagen, where the party was to be welcomed by the Royal Danish Geographical Society. The ship tried to beat its way back to Reykjavik, but ran aground early Wednesday. It began to leak and the auxiliary engine stopped.

The crew unsuccessfully tried to launch lifeboats as mountainous waves broke over the little vessel. The seas washed away everything, even the life belts. That left only one recourse. The members of the expedition and the crew had to try to make shore by swimming.

Men Seen Sinking in Seas.
From the shore residents of the district watched the men sink, one by one, in the high seas. A short time later the Pourquoi Pas and the Danish gunboat Aegir found only the mast tops protruding from the water.

Only Geonidec reached shore. Waves cast him up on the rocky bank. Farmers found him on the rocks—unconscious, half-frozen, lashed to a piece of wood.

Year the same spot, the bodies of 30 of the victims were recovered. Among them was that of Capt. Charcot.

Geonidec was taken to a farm house, where, after a while, he recovered consciousness. He fell into a deep sleep for many hours before he awoke and told the story of the disaster.

The voyage was to have been the last for both the polar ship and Charcot. The expedition was sponsored by the Paris Trocadero Museum of Ethnography and sailed from Copenhagen April 25.

Charcot Honored for Explorations
He began in 1903.

Jean Baptiste Charcot, a Captain in the French Navy, made his first voyage to polar seas at the head of a French expedition to the south polar regions in 1905. He was unheard of for months and rescue crews were being recruited when the party showed up at Puerto Madrin, Argentina. Charcot was decorated with the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

He led a similar expedition in 1908, backed by the French Government and by the Rothschilds. Charcot made other voyages before the World War, and after that conflict he renewed his studies in the polar regions nearly every season.

In 1925, when one of Roald Amundsen's north polar expeditions was missing, Charcot searched the east coast of Greenland in the Pourquoi Pas. Three years later, when Amundsen and Rene Guibaud were lost while plotting a sea plane to the rescue of the survivors of the Noble dirigible disaster, the Charcot boat again went north.

One of Capt. Charcot's latest significant reports, made to the French Academy of Sciences in April, 1931, embodied findings by two scientists who had accompanied him to the northern seas, which indicated a complete reversal of magnetic inclination and declination.

Charcot, 69 years old, was a member of the French Academies of Science, Marine and Medicine and was decorated with both France and Great Britain. He was twice married. His wife sued for divorce while he was in the Antarctic in 1905. In January, 1907, he married Marie Clerly, daughter of an attorney.

He was a lifetime resident of Neuilly-sur-Seine. His widow and two daughters survive.

many, was executed Feb. 13, 1933. It was canceled two months later. At the time these contracts were made, German political associations "like the Nazis were nearly all armed with American revolvers and Thompson machine guns," smuggled from America to Germany through Holland, the committee said.

Col. Taylor, in charge of the du Pont Paris office, reported in June, 1932, "arms of all kinds from America were smuggled into the Dutch rivers into Germany," and that most of the "bootlegging" was done by the Dutch.

Other American firms, including aircraft companies, aided directly in the rearmament of Germany, the Senate committee contended.

American Air Forces Accused.
"It is apparent that American aviation companies did their part to assist Germany's air armament," it said. "It seems apparent, also, that there was not an adequate check on the foreign shipments of these companies by the appropriate branches of the Government—the War and Navy departments."

The report mentioned sales to Germany by the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Co. in 1933, including 29 engines, 13 propellers and "other parts amounting to a total cost of $272,000."

"For the first six months of 1934," the report continued, "the sales figures to Germany took a tremendous jump to $1,445,000 which included 176 engines, two large Boeing transports and six two-seat planes described as mail planes."

These mail planes were of the same type sold by the company for observation and light bombing work, and were "readily convertible into observation or light bombing planes," the report said.

AMERICAN CORRESPONDENT GETS ITALIAN WAR CROSS

Mark Barron of Associated Press

Cited for Valor on the Field in Ethiopia.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—When Mark Barron, city editor of the New York staff of the Associated Press, arrived at his office today, he found this message on his desk, a cable from Rome:

"Graziani wires you personally from Addis Ababa: 'I am happy to inform you have been awarded Italian war cross for military valor on the field for the following reasons:'"

"American war correspondent, participated with imperturbable courage in the operations leading to the capture of Neghelli, until grave attack of tropical malaria conducted him to the point of death in the Neghelli zone from Jan. 12 to 20, 1935. Heartiest congratulations and cordial salutes."

The message was from Gen. Rodolfo Graziani, now viceroy of Ethiopia, who was commander-in-chief of Mussolini's army on the south front in the Italian offensive against Addis Ababa.

NEW REPUBLIC FOR ROOSEVELT

Didn't Support Him or Hoover in 1932.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The New Republic, an independent weekly journal, in its current issue announced it would support President Roosevelt for re-election. In 1932 the New Republic supported neither Mr. Roosevelt nor former President Hoover. In 1928 it supported Alfred E. Smith and in 1924, Robert M. La Follette.

The journal advises its readers to vote for Labor or Socialist candidates in local, state and congressional elections.

pleased his mother, as did that of another son, Jaime, also to a commoner. The Queen finally was reconciled to Alfonso's marriage, and met his wife, at the bedside of the Prince when he narrowly escaped death from haemophilia in Switzerland two years ago.

Her Son's Marriage Falls.
Alfonso's marriage started falling apart shortly afterward, and in 1935 he came to the United States and became an automobile salesman, another decision that saddened her. He sued for annulment of the marriage. Then came the linking of Alfonso's name again with another beauty in a semi-comic romance that like so many other happenings in the family ended in tragedy.

Young Alfonso escorted Marta Rocafort, 22, to a Cuban, to several dance places in New York this summer. There were rumors that if and when his marriage to Edelmira Sampedro was annulled, Marta would become his bride. Marta said the Prince was "awfully nice," but sidestepped direct questions about the marriage. "There is a great deal of difference between being in love and being a friend."

Then along came Moe Solinsky, 55, head of a manufacturing concern, who heaved himself into the lists against the charm of the Prince. A marriage license was issued in Kew-Forest, N. Y., with his name and Marta Rocafort's on it. He booked accommodations aboard the Queen Mary for Mr. and Mrs. Moe Solinsky.

Prince's Rival Dies.
But he sailed alone and Marta went back to Cuba, and the Prince to a room in the Medical Center when physicians could not stop the flow of blood after lancing a boil on his thigh. Solinsky returned, and died here little more than a week ago following an appendix operation.

The former Queen asked by wireless from the Conti di Savoia that the usual fanfare of royal welcome be dispensed with, and that she be allowed to pass in the strictest incognito. Her residence while here is a secret. She may be the same guest on Park avenue of Mrs. Elsie Moore Torlonia, whose son married Princess Beatrice, and there is a suite ready for her at the same hotel where Prince Alfonso resided until he was taken to the hospital.

Alfonso's attorneys opposed in court today the latest development in his marital affairs, demand of his wife, Edelmira de Bourbon, that the Prince be ordered to start alimony payments before his mother can take him out of the country and the reach of its laws.

BROWN VS. BRUCKER FOR COUZENS' SEAT

Virtually Complete Michigan
Returns Show G. O. P. Senator
Beaten by 120,000.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 17.—Representative Pennington M. Brown's margin of victory over Louis B. Ward, associate of Father Charles E. Coughlin, for the Democratic senatorial nomination apparently will be not more than 4000 votes, nearly complete returns indicated today.

Brown will oppose former Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker, the Republican candidate, in November for the Senate seat now held by James Couzens.

Brown's lead over Ward, with all but 60 of the State's 3467 precincts in, was 4032 votes. Twenty-five of the missing precincts were in Wayne County (Detroit), where the pro-Ward drift may more than offset probable Brown gains in most of the outstate precincts still to be heard from.

Returns from 3407 precincts gave Brown 120,884 to Ward's 116,852. Ward, in whose behalf Father Coughlin made a radio appeal during the campaign, and who had the endorsement of the priest's National Union for Social Justice, carried several counties, but Brown captured most of them outside the Detroit area.

In the Seventeenth District, belated Wayne County returns apparently gave the Democratic congressional nomination to Draper Allen by an unofficial margin of 169 votes over Maynard Siebert, the Coughlin candidate. Allen's indicated victory reduced to six the number of National Union endorsements who won congressional nominations in Michigan. The National Union had endorsed 18.

Former Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker, defeated Couzens for the Republican nomination by about 120,000. Brucker attacked Couzens' support of President Roosevelt's New Deal. Couzens made no active campaign. Returns from 3309 precincts gave Brucker 513,280. Couzens 190,411.

The vote for Frank Murphy, High Commissioner of the Philippines, for the Democratic nomination for Governor mounted steadily. Reports from 3258 precincts gave him 256,084. George W. Welsh 121,051. Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald was re-elected after the invalidation of the NRA. He said he wanted to "make it clear" that it "is not my desire to suggest a revival of the NRA."

HITLER TELLS ARMY CORPS 'STRONG FIST' IS SUPERIOR

100,000 See Him Present New Colors to Troops in Review at Wurzberg.

WURZBURG, Germany, Sept. 17.—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, in the presence of 100,000 spectators, reviewed the fifth army corps and gave the troops their new colors today. He told his soldiers "the time of desolation, misery and despair" in the early years after the war was marked by a struggle between two conceptions—"the first contended Germany could be happy only as the most defenseless among nations. The second maintained good fortune comes only to him who is able to hold it in his strong fist."

"Since then 18 years have gone by and the second conception has conquered," Hitler declared. He reminded the soldiers they were the inheritors of the proud tradition of the old army, "the defenders of the honor and the power and the glory of the German nation."

U. S. ENVOY TO SPAIN SEEKING RELEASE OF CORRESPONDENTS

Bowers Acts Unofficially on Behalf of Americans Reported Held

By the Associated Press.
SAINT JEAN DE LUZ, France, Sept. 17.—United States Ambassador Claude G. Bowers said today he was trying to obtain the release of three American newspaper correspondents reported detained by Spanish rebels at Carceres.

Reports reaching the frontier said John T. Whitaker of the New York Herald Tribune and Floyd Gibbons, feature writer, and H. R. Knickerbocker of International News Service were arrested on charges of failing to obtain military permits from the Burgos provisional government.

The ambassador said any action he took would necessarily be indirect and unofficial, since the United States does not recognize the rebel government.

ILLINOIS LABOR FEDERATION URGES PEACE IN A. F. L. FIGHT

Asks That Lewis and Green Adjust Differences Over CIO Activities.

By the Associated Press.

QUINCY, Ill., Sept. 17.—The fifty-fourth annual convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor unanimously adopted a resolution today urging the committee for industrial organization and the American Federation of Labor to "adjust their differences in a manner that will permit them to co-operate wholeheartedly with each other."

The resolution was a substitute for the majority and minority reports of the resolutions committee on all resolutions asking the convention to endorse John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, in his fight with William Green, president of the A. F. of L. over industrial unionism. Ray Edmundson, State president of the U. M. W. A. said the resolution was satisfactory to him.

The Federation adopted a resolution yesterday endorsing the candidacy of President Roosevelt for re-election. It broke a 54-year precedent against endorsing a presidential candidate.

The preamble said: "No rule is inflexible in all circumstances. An emergency may arise in which temporary departure therefrom is essential in the interests of all concerned."

ROPER ADVISES BUSINESS MEN TO AVOID SALE OF WAR GOODS

Commerce Secretary Tells Advisory Council His Position on Foreign Trade.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Secretary of Commerce Roper said today that business men should not seek foreign trade in any manner "that might involve us in war."

In the statement before the business advisory council, he said that "we wish to pursue trade generally, but in such a manner that we will not seek war period orders."

Roper told the executives, who advise with the Commerce Department on economic problems, that conditions in Europe made it advisable "for us in the United States to seek proper readjustments in our economic and social segments in the interest of wise and co-operative understanding, and thereby avoid the European extremes."

Roper outlined a proposal for the creation of an agency in the Commerce Department to continue studies of industrial economies undertaken after the invalidation of the NRA. He said he wanted to "make it clear" that it "is not my desire to suggest a revival of the NRA."

Acute Food Shortage in Madrid, With No Attempt at Rationing

If Rebels Should Cut Railway, City Would Be Starving in 10 Days—No Milk or Potatoes, and Little Meat, to Be Had.

By KARL VON WIEGAND.
(Copyright, 1936.)

MADRID, Sept. 16. (Uncensored)—The specter of hunger looms over Madrid today.

While the insurgent columns of Generals Franco and Mola batter at two points in the semi-circle of attack toward the capital, the pinch of a food shortage is making itself sharply felt.

There is no milk except small quantities of the powdered variety which tastes like chalk and water. There are no potatoes, butter, eggs, sugar or cream and only the smallest quantities of meat. Sugar is extremely scarce, though by standing in line for about five hours you can sometimes get half a pound. A few cafes have a little left and patrons are besieged by boys and girls begging for lumps.

The American embassy has enough food left to feed 72 people for 20 days.

Hoarding Dangerous.

There was a run on the stores for canned foods but this was stopped when it was found to be dangerous to hoard food. Small bands of anarchists and red extremists are searching houses, especially those of aristocrats, to determine the quantity of food on hand. Often this turns out to be merely a pretext for looting, which has become common in Madrid. Ever the new premier, Calabarro, for all his good intentions, has been unable wholly to suppress it. For

A. F. OF L. BUILDING BOMBED

Explosion in Cleveland Follows Federal Union Meetings.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 17.—A bomb exploded late last night in the boiler room of the three-story building housing Cleveland Federation of Labor headquarters, causing damage estimated at $4000. Michael Galvin, custodian, was alone in the building. He was uninjured.

Police said the bomb was of black powder, and that the blown-out doors of the boiler indicated it had been placed inside. "The explosion occurred little more than an hour after meetings of the federation, the Bill Posters' Union and the Carpenters' Union. The hall is used as headquarters of the Cleveland Building Trades Council.

sign Minister, Del Vayo said: "We've shot four anarchists for looting."

But the extremists have killed far more than four and they are far from being under control.

Madrid lies in the center of a semi-arid plan which produces relatively little for the large population. Should Gen. Franco, the insurgent military chief, push forward 28 miles to take Toledo, he would be within 19 miles of the only railway line supplying Madrid.

Lack of Organization.
With the lack of organization typical of everything connected with the Government's side of the civil war, no steps have been taken to establish a food reserve or ration what there is on hand.

If the railway should be cut, Madrid would be near starvation within 10 days or two weeks. In such a situation, it is said in informed quarters, everything would be seized for the Red militia. Already militia units at the front are complaining of the scarcity of food. One militiaman told me: "They expect us to fight for four days on one can of sardines."

Although I have been again and again to the Sierra and Talavera fronts, I have never seen a field kitchen or seen any militiamen eating.

The food shortage in Madrid has been intensified by the influx of refugees from the path of the rebel advance and the arrival of troop reinforcements from Catalonia. Food may decide the fate of Madrid.

MRS. RUTH BRYAN RHODE ON INDIANA CAMPAIGN TOUR

Says Choice Is Human Leadership of Roosevelt V. Weary Road of Hoover.

By the Associated Press.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Sept. 17.—Opening a 10-day campaign tour in this State, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Rhode, former Minister to Denmark, said here yesterday, "The choice in this campaign is between the upward grade under the humane leadership of President Roosevelt and the old weary road we traveled in the Hoover administration."

Mrs. Rhode said the spirit of AAA and the NRA still lived, despite Supreme Court decisions, as shown in improved conditions for agriculture and industry.

ATLANTIC DIRIGIBLE SERVICE PROPOSAL

Commerce Department to Submit Subsidy Question to New Maritime Commission.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Commerce Department officials said today they would submit to the new Maritime Commission a proposal for a Government-subsidized trans-Atlantic dirigible service. The commission, created to administer the new ship subsidy law, is expected to be appointed by President Roosevelt within a few days.

Technical studies have been made of suggestions for Government subsidies to a privately-operated trans-Atlantic dirigible service. A committee of the Business Advisory Council recently expressed confidence that necessary private capital would be forthcoming if the Government would provide a subsidy. The report added that commercial dirigibles could be quickly converted to military use in an emergency.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE AMOSKEAG CO.

Manipulative Activities Said to Have Caused $50,000 Loss to Public.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—Peter C. Borah, counsel for the congressional committee on bondholders' reorganizations, announced today the committee would investigate the defunct Amoskeag Manufacturing Co. in connection with alleged "manipulative activities that caused approximately $50,000 loss to the investment public."

Borah said public hearings would begin Sept. 28 in Manchester, N. H., where the Amoskeag mill, one of the world's largest, is.

Borah charged that Amoskeag revaluation assets were marked up $400,000 through the "mechanics of bookkeeping and $100,000 in cash was transferred from the operating company to the holding company, Amoskeag Co." during the past few years. He said the valuation of the Manchester plant, which has been closed a year and earlier this week was sold to a group of Manchester citizens for $500,000, was increased on Amoskeag books from $3,000,000 to $33,000,000.

Caulfield then asked him had gone to his wife's home after the divorce. Howard had gone almost every day he was there when his wife was in the hospital, and a telephone call came, and it was a man's voice as Mrs. Schaub and calling for Columbus airport.

"He said he was an old friend of Mrs. Schaub's," continued, "and that he had look him up some time." said he asked her to tell him the man and she said she heard of him.

Denies He Ever Mistreated Her.

Clarence H. Howard Jr., millionaire son of the late steel manufacturer, told the witness stand in court today how an anonymous letter which had been sent to him in April, 1935, to question his wife, since divorced, and her association with the man she later married.

Howard, a director of the General Steel Castings Corporation, testified in the hearing before Circuit Judge Fred E. Mueller in which he is resisting his former wife's efforts to have their divorce annulled. He said that he had a long conversation with her there in their hotel room, during which, he said, she told him that she had fallen in love with her present husband, Harry P. Schaub, and had spent the night with him some months before in Philadelphia.

Figures in Clayton Child Custody Hearing

MR. and Mrs. Harry P. Schaub (above) leaving the courtroom at Clayton, and (above, left) Clarence H. Howard Jr., Mrs. Schaub's first husband.

1935, shortly after the divorce, when Mrs. Schaub alleges he beat and kicked her at their home, and the second about the occurrence at Mary Institute.

Asked to give his version of what happened on June 19, he testified that he had come there with the caretaker at his mother's home to get his personal belongings. He had been there the day before, but there were too many to take all at one time.

"I had no intention or desire of seeing Mrs. Schaub," he said. "But I was standing in the front hall when she came out of the library and asked me not to come in. She said she had changed her mind about my taking my stuff away."

"She was carrying a rolled-up magazine in one hand and a pencil in the other and she came at me as though she were going to beat me. I tried to dodge and she hit me and my glasses fell off. When I stooped to pick them up she tried to stab me in the eye with the pencil."

"I grabbed her wrists," he testified, "but held her until she promised not to try to hit me again. I let her go and she tried to beat me again. I took hold of her wrists and as I did her feet went out from under her and she fell down. Then I saw that I wasn't very welcome, so I started to go upstairs to get some shirts."

"I went upstairs twice and the caretaker followed me each time. I didn't have to push my way up. When I came down the second time, Mrs. Schaub yelled at me in the hall. 'Don't hit me,' I was about 15 feet away from her and I told her to shut up. Nothing at all happened when I was upstairs."

Mrs. Schaub had previously testified that on that day she was scarcely clad when Howard came up, he said, took her by the neck of the shirt she was wearing and pushed her up, and then kicked her in the abdomen.

The Christmas Party. Howard said that on the occasion of the Christmas party he had been out of town for the 10 days previously. After the party he was waiting in the hall of the school when Shirley Claire, the eldest daughter, came up, threw her arms about him. He kissed her and when she mused his hair, his glasses fell off.

At that point Mrs. Schaub came up, he said, took her by the neck of the shirt she was wearing and pushed her up, and then kicked her in the abdomen.

At the start of the hearing today, Schaub took the stand, testifying about his brokerage business, the divorce, and the play he was interested in and affection for Mrs. Schaub's children.

Tells About Boat Trip. On cross-examination he was asked about a trip to Bermuda in April, 1935, when he and the then Mrs. Howard were on the same boat, about correspondence he had with Mrs. Howard while she was still married to Howard, and about an automobile trip he took with his present wife shortly after the divorce.

He denied that there was anything untoward in any of his associations with his wife before he married her. His testimony concluded Mrs. Schaub's side of the case.

Former servants of the Howard's testified in support of Mrs. Schaub's behalf that they had seen the two children spanked and subjected to "domineering" treatment by Miss Ethel Jones, their governess, whom Mrs. Schaub has pictured in testimony as unfit to care for the children.

Mrs. Marie Wilson, former upstairs maid for the Howards when they were living at 3 Dromedary road, McKnight Village, said that she had seen Mrs. Schaub brought the eldest daughter, Shirley Claire, 9, to her "and showed me how red she had made Shirley by beating her with a slipper."

GRAND JURY CALLS CANDIDATE WHO

on nominations were as lopsided, in the official returns, as those for the committee. Because of the weakness of the State election law as applied to primary elections, Circuit Attorney Franklin Miller has held that irregularities in the committee election can be more effectively dealt with than those in the primary. The committee election, though held in connection with the August primary and using the same ballot, is on a different legal footing, and the same laws apply to it as to the November election.

Today is the grand jury's last meeting day for this week. It will be in session Mondays to Thursdays inclusive, beginning at 10 a. m. and running through the day.

Man Says He Made Error in Affidavit. Didn't Vote No. A. B. Chah, 3944 A Ashland avenue, today informed the Post-Dispatch that he was mistaken in his affidavit stating that he voted No in the riverfront bond issue election of Sept. 10, 1935. He said today that he had recalled, since making the affidavit, that he was out of the city on the bond election day. Chah's name was included in a list of 55 persons, published by the Post-Dispatch Monday, making affidavits that they voted No in the bond election in the Twenty-first Ward, ninth precinct, where the officially recorded vote was 317 Yes to 10 No.

F. H. BARRINGTON DIES
IN CHICAGO RAILWAY STATION

Plant Manager of Electrical Company in St. Louis Succumbs to Heart Attack.

Frederick H. Barrington, general plant manager of the Moloney Electric Co., 5390 Birch street, died of a heart attack today at Chicago. Mr. Barrington, who was 57 years old and resided at 3826 Juniata street, was stricken at the Dearborn Street railroad station as he was about to return to St. Louis from a vacation trip to Toronto. He came to St. Louis in 1915 from Windsor, Ont., as chief electrical engineer of the company. Formerly he was treasurer of the company.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Jean Barrington, and three daughters, Catherine, Susan and Ruth Barrington.

BLACK LEGION
EXECUTIONER IS STATE WITNESS

Man Who Fired Shots Into Body of WPA Worker Identifies Twelve Defendants at Trial.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Sept. 17.—Dayton Dean, who fired five shots into the body of Charles A. Poole last May 12, took the stand in Circuit Court today and exchanged glare for glare with the 12 men he charges plotted with him to kill the young WPA worker.

The courtroom was crowded as Dean followed the widow of the man he killed to the witness stand. Both he and Mrs. Rebecca Poole were State witnesses in the trial of the 12.

The Black Legion executioner stared at the defendants a full two minutes after Prosecutor Duncan C. McCreary asked if he knew them. They returned his stare. "Yes," said Dean. "I know them all."

Dean then told again his story that members of the order passed a death "sentence" on Poole, abducted him and shot him to death because of false gossip that Poole had beaten his wife.

Mrs. Poole denied her husband ever had mistreated her. "The only way I can account for the story that he beat me was a dispute we once had about moving from our home," the young widow said. "A neighbor heard us and told Mrs. Rushing my sister, Harvey Davis made up the rest of the story."

PURGE OF JEFFERSON CITY
REGISTRATION PROPOSED

G. O. P. County Chairman Prepares to Challenge 1500 Names on Poll Books.

By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 17.—Don Purteet, chairman of the Cole County Republican Central Committee, prepared today to challenge 1500 names on the registration books here for the general election in November.

Purteet, who last week charged the Board of Registrars here with failing to comply with State election laws, asked Miss Naomi Mentzer, president of the board, for the challenge books.

"We are going to see to it that all names of illegal voters are removed," Purteet announced, adding challenges would be directed at names of persons known to be dead, those who had moved away from here and those convicted of felonies.

"We hope to clear up a situation," he said, "that has made unfair elections possible for the last several years."

MRS. ROOSEVELT ILL WITH GRIP

Ordered to Bed by Physician; Engagements Canceled.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was ordered to bed today by her physician, who said she was suffering with an attack of grip. White House officials said she was running a temperature but that her condition was not alarming.

Mrs. Roosevelt had been scheduled to appear this morning before an annual mobilization for human needs meeting on the south lawn of the White House. She also had an appointment with members of the mobilization planned for the East Room of the executive mansion and a luncheon engagement with the organization. All engagements were canceled.

GRAND JURY MAY DRAW ON CIRCUIT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE
FOR STAFF IN VOTE INQUIRY

Has No Power to Assemble Own Aids But May Ask Miller for Clerks to Count Ballots.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 16.—The exposure of election frauds in St. Louis has excited great interest and discussion in political and legal circles here. Now that a grand jury is going into the frauds, the question how far it can go is interesting, particularly in the case of the riverfront Jefferson Memorial bond issue, since it is assumed that there is no way for a taxpayer to question the result of the election in court.

There is no difference of opinion as to the power of the grand jury. The Constitution gives it full power to open all ballot boxes and scrutinize all election returns of every kind. The question turns on the facilities available to the grand jury if the investigation should go the length of determining the true result of the election, as is done in case of a contest in court.

It is learned on good authority that while the grand jury does not have power to establish a staff of clerks or accountants to aid in examining records and counting ballots, such a force of aids might be assembled by drawing on the staff of the Circuit Attorney's office, which in St. Louis numbers 15 or 20 persons, assistants, clerks, stenographers and investigators.

Sections 11,284-294, Revised Statutes, 1929, authorize the appointment by the Circuit Attorney of eight assistants and one deputy circuit clerk, and that five of these assistants (appointed under Section 11,284), if so directed by the Circuit Attorney, may attend upon the grand jury. The other sections referred to are not specific as to allowing the additional assistants there provided for to work with the grand jury and be privy to its secrets.

Section 11,285 authorizes the Circuit Attorney to appoint nine clerks or stenographers and that these stenographers "shall take down and transcribe for the use of the Circuit Attorney evidence before the grand jury or before any court of the circuit."

The correspondent's authority heretofore referred to is of the opinion that one or all of these nine clerks or stenographers could be turned over to the grand jury, that "take down and transcribe" evidence could not be limited to making stenographic records, that the clerks and stenographers could aid in any work in which the grand jury was engaged, including counting of ballots and comparing of records. From these sections he was of the opinion that five assistant circuit clerks and nine clerks or stenographers, any or all of them, could be assigned by the Circuit Attorney, in his judgment, to any and all work in the grand jury room in which the foreman might desire their help.

PAWNEE BILL'S WIFE DIES OF AUTO ACCIDENT INJURIES

Her Showman Husband, Also Hurt in Crash, Is at Her Side When Ends Comes.

By the Associated Press. PAWNEE, Ok., Sept. 17.—Mrs. May Lillie, 65 years old, wife of Major Gordon W. Lillie (Pawnee Bill), frontiersman and showman, died today of injuries received in an automobile accident Sunday night.

Throughout the night she had grown weaker steadily and administrations of oxygen failed to revive her. Her husband, 76, injured in the same accident, was at her bedside. The accident in which Mrs. Lillie was fatally hurt occurred when she and her husband were returning from Taos, N. M., where they had re-enacted their marriage ceremony in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary. Lillie was driving the gold-limousine automobile which had been given to them by admirers.

MRS. NICOLL FOR ROOSEVELT

Wife of Former G. O. P. State Senator Makes Announcement.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Courtlandt Nicoll, wife of a former Republican State Senator, announced today that she would vote for President Roosevelt's re-election "because of what he has done for the American people." Mrs. Nicoll's statement was read at a "Win With Roosevelt" luncheon of a group of wealthy and socially prominent women.

Mrs. Charles Whitman, wife of the former Republican Governor of New York, and Mrs. Sedgwick Colby, former wife of Bainbridge Colby, were among the speakers.

12 INJURED IN FIGHT
IN LETTUCE STRIKE

Guards and Police Use Clubs and Tear Gas to Disperse Crowd of 400.

By the Associated Press.

SALINAS, Cal., Sept. 17.—A suggestion by Gov. Merriam that the National Guard be ready for action and a union move toward a general strike here today followed a fresh encounter of officers with striking lettuce workers. Fifty additional State highway patrolmen were sent here, increasing the total to 130.

At least 12 persons have been injured in clashes resulting from attempts to stop the movement of lettuce into packing sheds by non-union workers. About 3200 workers are on strike, seeking recognition of the Vegetable Workers' Union, a new affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

A. S. Dose, secretary of the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union, today ordered pickets to remain off the streets. Mickey Shevlin, president of the striking Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union, said he would urge the calling of a general strike here.

Another man was shot today, bringing to 11 the number of victims treated at a hospital, when guards fired on three automobiles which sought to enter a barricaded shed. The cars, carrying 17 workers, did not halt at commands of the guards, who opened fire.

Albert Blue, one of the workers, was wounded in the back and side by shotgun slugs. The guards said they thought the men were strikers attempting to storm the shed. Sheriff Carl Abbott continued to deputize citizens and about 250 more were sworn in at the National Guard armory. The men were issued riot guns and khaki colored arm bands made from army blankets. The new deputees were sent immediately to patrol the downtown streets.

Armed with clubs, 250 special deputies late yesterday cleared the streets of 400 to 500 men and women. Police fired gas shells into a crowd advancing on an area through which trucks were moving to packing sheds. The gas drifted into the downtown area and forced stores to close for 30 minutes.

Pickets attempted to block a lettuce truck in a main street, but were beaten off by officers swinging clubs and pistols. Ten persons, one a woman, were injured.

SAN ANGELO, TEX., INUNDED

Many Leave Homes As Waters Flood Streets After Rains.

By the Associated Press. SAN ANGELO, Tex., Sept. 17.—Many San Angelo homes were evacuated, some by boats, today when waters of the Conchos River rose rapidly after heavy rains and inundated 150 city blocks.

People who went out in a boat to rescue a family marooned in trees near Grape Creek community, took to the trees themselves when their boat capsized.

Cloudbursts upstream last night were largely responsible for the sharp rise of the three Conchos rivers from the already high stage caused by heavy rains earlier this week. Water was receding from the Christoval business section this afternoon after washing away six buildings in that resort town. Christoval was reported to have had 16.50 inches of rain last night and Water Valley, northwest of San Angelo 25 miles, 20.38 inches. Precipitation in San Angelo Monday amounted to 20.13 inches, of which 7.56 fell last night.

Stop Thinning Hair

to Avoid Baldness

BALDNESS warns you when it is approaching. Your scalp is laden with dandruff, it itches and your hair becomes thin and scraggly at the temples, crown and frontal point. Disregard these warnings and you'll soon be bald. Heed them and consult a Thomas expert if you want to help avoid baldness.

More than a quartermillion other men who noticed their hair becoming thin consulted Thomas. They helped save their hair—helped end dandruff, stopped abnormal hairfall and aided normal hair growth.

You, too, can have a good head of hair. Call today for a free scalp examination. The Thomas expert will tell you frankly what can be done in your particular case. If benefits are improbable—you will be told. No charge is ever made for consultation or complete scalp examination in a Thomas office.

was fined $210 and $18 in costs by Judge Ruddy, on six different traffic charges including one of driving when intoxicated. He was arrested last month after a chase by police who saw him pass a stop sign at Jefferson avenue and Olive street. He was fined $150 on the drunken driving charge and $60 for passing the stop sign, two automatic signals, for failure to obey the direction of an officer and for driving without a license.

Frances McQuaide, 7822 Riley avenue, was fined $200 by Judge Ruddy on a charge of driving when intoxicated and for careless driving on Aug. 29 when he was arrested after a minor accident on Twelfth boulevard.

Ben F. Johnson, 5626A Ashland avenue, was fined $20 by Police Judge James F. Nangle on charges of driving when intoxicated and careless driving. He was arrested after his automobile struck a light standard at a safety zone at Union boulevard and Cabanne avenue.

Karl C. Griffin, salesman, 767 Belt avenue, was fined $1000 by Judge Nangle yesterday on charges of careless driving and leaving the scene of the accident in which Peter Karras, 13-year-old newsboy, suffered fractured neck and skull.

The driver of the automobile failed to stop, Griffin was arrested after police found he had rented it from an agency where he formerly worked. The machine, damaged and with scraps of the newsboy's clothing on it, was found shortly after the accident which occurred March 30 in front of 4348 Delmar boulevard.

Karras testified he was three feet from the south curb and about to cross the street when he was struck and knocked nearly 75 feet by the automobile which was on the left hand side of the street. He was in a hospital for 11 weeks and appeared yesterday with his neck in a cast.

Griffin said that he did not know he had struck anyone, but that he had "felt a bump" while driving west in Delmar that evening. He said he abandoned the car at Walton avenue, because he felt ill and later called the agency and told them to call for it. He reported next day to police that he had had an accident, he added.

He was arrested the day after the accident by Detective James Shelton, an acquaintance, who saw him on the street.

Griffin said he would appeal the fines, $500 in each case, the maximum provided by ordinance. His driver's license was revoked automatically when found guilty of the charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Union Asks for Pay Increase.

By the Associated Press.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Sept. 17.

The executive offices of the General Electric Co. said today that union employees had requested a general wage increase of 10 cents an hour for all employees. Leo Jandreu, president of the local unit of the United Electrical and Radio Workers of America, said the union had adopted a resolution asking the works council representing all employees, to take up the matter of an increase directly with Gerard Swope, president. The union also seeks liberalization of the company's profit-sharing plan to provide for payments twice yearly, instead of annually, the executive offices said.

MGR. M'GLYNN, PASTOR FOR 52 YEARS, DIES

Succumbs at 82 After Spending Entire Priesthood at St. Rose's.

Mgr. James Joseph McGlynn, for more than 52 years pastor of St. Rose's Catholic Church, Goodfellow boulevard and Maple avenue, died of pneumonia yesterday at De Paul Hospital.

Ill since last June, the 82-year-old priest had been in a coma for two days and failed to recognize Archbishop Glennon, who, on his return from Europe yesterday, immediately went to the hospital to see him.

Left an orphan in Alexandria, Va., his birthplace, in the decade before the Civil War, he drifted to Maryland. There he met a man who befriended him and took him to Edina, Mo. In Edina he performed odd chores for the parish priest and served as an altar boy at mass.

Ordained in Spring of 1884. So great was his interest in religious work that he was sent to Milwaukee to prepare for the priesthood and there he was ordained in the spring of 1884.

A picnic he attended at Carondelet with Father Bonacum, who later became a Bishop, lived in the memory of Father McGlynn as marking the day on which his opportunities began. It was three days after his arrival in St. Louis as a youthful priest. On his return late at night, there was a letter from Bishop Kenrick assigning him to take charge of what was called St. Francis Xavier parish.

St. Francis Xavier parish was an extensive and sparsely populated area of fields and forests, bounded by Forest Park on the south, Natural Bridge on the north, Kingshighway on the east and Horsetoe Creek, Vinita Park, on the west.

There were some 35 families which attended services at the small building at Hamilton and Minerva avenues when condition of the dirt roads made it possible. Father McGlynn's first step was to change the name of the parish to St. Rose's, adopting the name of an American saint. As the parish grew, a larger church was provided at Goodfellow boulevard and Etzel avenue.

Eight Parishes 50 Years Later.

When his fiftieth anniversary as pastor of St. Rose's was celebrated in June, 1934, there were eight other parishes in the original area and St. Rose's alone had 600 families which worshipped at the imposing church at Goodfellow and Maple, built in 1910.

The anniversary was marked by Father McGlynn's elevation to the rank and title of Monsignor, as a member of the papal household, with purple vest and purple piping on his cassock.

St. Rose's School, with an attendance of about 600, was among the undertakings of the parish under the direction of Father McGlynn.

At his bedside yesterday were his three assistants, with whom he resided at the parish house, the Rev. Harry Lambert, the Rev. Charles O'Donnell and the Rev. John J. Fisher. He had no living relatives.

Archbishop Glennon, whose visit to the hospital was made about an hour before Mr. McGlynn's death, today paid tribute to the veteran pastor.

"His life was long and fruitful both as a pastor and a man," the Archbishop said. "He built all that you see in St. Rose's parish. He worked so assiduously, without vacation and without rest, that he wore himself out. He was devoted to his parish and his duty."

Funeral Arrangements.

The body of Mgr. McGlynn will be at the Arthur J. Donnelly Undertaking Co., 3820 Lindell boulevard, until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning when it will be taken to St. Rose's Church, where it will lie in state until Saturday. There will be a children's mass at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning with office for the dead at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Requiem mass will be sung at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Rose's Church. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

WISCONSIN PRIMARY WINNERS'

VIEWS ON ELECTION TREND

Democrat and Republican Profess Encouragement; Outcome in Doubt; Gov. La Follette Says.
By the Associated Press.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 17.—Democratic and Republican winners in the Wisconsin primary each professed today to see encouragement in the returns as an indication of the election trend in this State.

Gov. Philip F. La Follette, who in winning renomination unopposed as a Progressive Tuesday received more votes than were cast by either rival party, took the view that the comparatively light vote left the November outcome "much in doubt."

With only 78 of the State's 2928 precincts unreported, La Follette's total of 173,830 exceeded the total Republican vote by 11,000 and the Democratic by 30,000. He has announced he will support President Roosevelt.

Alexander Wiley, Republican convention endorsed candidate for Governor, polled $4,304 against 78,079 for John B. Chapple, while Arthur W. Lucke, the Democratic convention's choice, had $4,926 to $8,435 for State Senator W. D. Carroll.

Military Order of Cooties Election.
DENVER, Sept. 17.—Thomas McBride Jr., New Orleans, was elected president of the Military Order of Cooties, funmakers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, yesterday. Carl C. Gibson, Denver, was chosen supreme senior vice-commander, and Tan Tarrantola, St. Louis, supreme judge advocate.

POLICE ASKED TO PROTECT NORMAN THOMAS AT ROCKFORD

Sponsors of Meeting Recall Tear Gas Attack on Socialist Leader at Previous Meeting.

By the Associated Press.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Sept. 17.—Remembering a tear gas attack on Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President, when he spoke here two years ago, sponsors of a meeting which Thomas will address here the night of Sept. 25 demanded police protection for the Socialist leader.

Thomas Brooks, secretary of the committee arranging the meeting, appeared before the City Council and asked that a special guard protect Thomas, reminding the aldermen that after the tear gas attack on May 28, 1934, persons responsible were never apprehended.

The council, referring the request to its committee on police and to Police Chief A. E. Bargen for recommendation, indicated the request would be granted.

$2055 PAYMENT TO STEWARD

WHO LOST EYE RECOMMENDED

Illinois Court of Claims Favors Compensation for Employee at Chester Penitentiary.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 17.—The State Court of Claims has recommended the payment of $2055.60 to Louis O. Karcher for the loss of an eye due to a cinder while working as steward at Chester Penitentiary, Sept. 2, 1933.

The recommendation will go before the next Legislature for appropriation.

The Court dismissed for want of prosecution a $500 claim of Arthur Scott and a $2000 claim filed for his daughter, Mildred, for personal injuries suffered on May 1, 1930, in a collision with a State highway truck near East St. Louis.

BOY SAYS PARENTS, ON TOUR, DROVE AWAY AND LEFT HIM

Appeals to Police for Aid After Spending Three Weeks in Search.

A young man stopped a policeman at Kingshighway and Chippewa street last night and said he was hungry and exhausted. He said he had been seeking his parents for three weeks, since they drove their automobile and trailer away from a filling station, apparently unaware that he had left the trailer and gone inside the station.

His misadventure occurred at Covington, Ind., he said, giving his name as Eugene Hutchison and his age as 16. His father, Albert Hutchison, traveled about the country with carnivals and operated concessions at county fairs, he said.

When he emerged from the filling station and found his family gone, he said, he made his way to Bridgeport, Ill., where his father was to have joined a carnival. The carnival was there but his father was not. He continued the search at other shows in Illinois towns and finally came here yesterday, he said.

WPA WORKERS TEAR DOWN 20 HOOVERVILLE SHACKS

Wharfmaster Says Original Occupants Have Left; 100 Huts Destroyed in Two Years.

More than 20 shacks in Hooverville, a community started by poverty-stricken families during the depression, have been torn down in the last month by WPA workers at the order of City Wharfmaster Thomas Byrne.

Approximately 100 shacks have been destroyed in the last two years, Byrne said, because original owners have moved out, only to be replaced by transients who have appropriated them for drinking and gambling purposes.

The group of dwellings at one time numbered more than 400. Byrne said he expects to tear down the remaining shacks as soon as their occupants can move out. The population of Hooverville has decreased about 40 per cent.

ALL OF LINDELL BOULEVARD TO BE OPENED SATURDAY

Entrance From De Baliviere to Remain Closed for Another Week.

Lindell boulevard, closed between Union boulevard and De Baliviere avenue for resurfacing, will be opened its entire length Saturday. Earlier in the summer, the section from De Baliviere to Skinker boulevard was closed.

The entrance from De Baliviere will remain closed for another week until its construction is finished. The resurfacing of the boulevard was a WPA project, costing $190,000.

The western half of Kingshighway from the Wabash tracks to Forest Park to the point where Kingshighway turns east will be closed tomorrow for three months while its surface is repaved. This also is a WPA job and will cost $40,000.

CITIES SERVICE CO. SUED FOR ACCOUNTING

Stockholder Says Dougherty and Others Made $18,000,000 by Manipulation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Henry L. Dougherty and others are accused in a stockholder's suit of making an $18,000,000 profit by manipulating the market in the stock of Cities Service Co. The suit, filed some time ago, became public when Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Laurer agreed yesterday to hear argument on a motion to permit Morton Marks, plaintiff, to examine Dougherty and W. Alton Jones, vice-president and director of Cities Service Co. before the trial.

Marks, owner of 61 shares of Cities Service common, is suing on behalf of himself and other stockholders. He asks for an accounting of profits.

He charges that Dougherty dominated Cities Service so effectively that he appoints and controls officers and directors. He says Dougherty is the fiscal and managing agent and depository of funds of 180 subsidiaries of the company. A number of transactions in 1928 and 1929 are listed in the complaint as tending to support the charge of manipulation.

Defendants include Cities Service Co., Cities Service & Securities Co., Henry L. Dougherty & Co., Inc., Gas Securities Co. and several individuals.

SIT-DOWN STRIKERS DENIED ADMITTANCE TO SHIPYARD

Situation at Staten Island Turned Into "Force Walkout," Union Officers Say.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A sit-down strike at the yards of the Staten Island Drydock Co., Inc., builders of United States Navy craft, ended today, but what a union officer described as a "force walkout" took its place.

When the day shift of about 1000 men reported at the gates to continue their strike within the yards, they were refused admittance. Philip Van Gelder, national secretary of the Industrial Union of Marine & Shipbuilding Workers of America, said. Company officers declined to comment.

Van Gelder estimated the number on strike at 1500. He said 200 men gained access to the yards but immediately were ejected by special officers.

The strike, which began yesterday, indefinitely postponed launching of the destroyer Fanning. Irving Covert, president of the union local, asserted the company had failed to carry out an agreement to increase wages 5 per cent and to select an impartial arbitrator. A spokesman for the company denied this.

TRUCK DRIVER ROBBED OF LIQUOR VALUED AT $6000

C. C. Cover of Sedalia Was Taking Load to Sedalia When Held Up Near Olney, Ill.

Charles C. Cover of Sedalia, Mo., was held up late Tuesday night by three men when he stopped to repair his truck on Highway 50, near Olney, Ill., and was held prisoner for more than six hours while the men took liquor valued at about $6000 which he was hauling from Louisville, Ky., to Sedalia.

He reported to Sheriff Henry Slickman of St. Clair County that the men dragged him from beneath his truck and forced him to enter their automobile. He said his eyes were taped and he was then taken on a long ride. Later the men returned to the truck and removed the shipment of liquor. He was driven in the truck toward East St. Louis, and early yesterday morning the men released him and abandoned the truck near Scott Field, he said.

MAKES GARMENTS "YOUNGER," SWEAR STARTLED WOMEN!

NEW SUDS REVOLUTIONIZES FINE FABRICS WASHING!

Mrs. McCambridge takes oath before Notary Public Stumpf; gives startling testimony below

Dreft Called Greatest Suds Discovery In 2000 Years!

A NEW suds discovery... that makes fine fabrics young again... before your very eyes. Silk prints you thought faded get shades brighter. Woolens get softer, fluffier. Silk stockings lose their "cottony" look... regain their former richness. Women just couldn't believe it—until they tried it. When they did, they were enthusiastic... ready to tell how amazingly different Dreft was... under oath.

Listen to Mrs. McCambridge's testimony: "I have two babies and I had a lot of little jerseys that had been washed several times in soap and had got rather harsh and coarse to the touch. I washed them in Dreft—and was I amazed at the results!

"Those jerseys actually got softer and fluffier. It was miraculous how improved they were. 'Some of them were a bright blue and I thought these had got faded. But the Dreft suds actually made them bright and new-looking again—washed their faded look right away.'"

Signed: Mrs. C. P. McCambridge, 6307 No. Irving Ave., Chicago.

Witnessed under Seal, John A. Stumpf, Notary Public.

Dreft has all the advantages and not one of the disadvantages of soap and soap flakes. When you first use it, compare.

Dreft makes suds as easily in hard as in soft water. It never forms soap scum, that unpleasant "ring around the washbasin."

It's the only washing suds that doesn't contain alkali... so anything safe in water is safe in Dreft. It completely dissolves almost instantly in cold water... leaves no soap particles to catch in your garments.

Try Dreft. You do so under a double-your-money-back guarantee. Get the large, economical package from your dealer today. Procter & Gamble, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. B. E. Johnson (above) Takes Oath and Says: "I had an old silk print dress that looked old and faded. I washed it in this new kind of suds and to my amazement, it got shades brighter, looked all good and new again."

5 times more suds than any soap flakes in hardest water

Legs Look Slimmer, Ankle Neater

Stockings that have got "cottony looking" and soap-streaked make ankles and legs look thick and ugly. Dreft suds is like a beauty bath for stockings... restores richness and "youth."

Rebel Gen. de Llano Tells How He Took Seville With Only 180 Men

Firing From Autos Terrorized Town — By Night, Defections From Government Forces Swelled His Army to Thousands.

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER.
(Copyright, 1936.)

SEVILLE.—Capt. Bolin, the press officer of the white army in the south, took me to see Gen. Quilepo de Llano, commander in the south of the operations in Andalusia, that is to say, against Malaga principally. He is one of the most colorful talkers on the White side, and every evening for half an hour and sometimes more, he pours out of the Seville radio a withering blast against the Reds.

He is just as colorful a fighter. Capt. Bolin and I walked into the General's headquarters, saluted by 20 or 30 guards at the doors. Capt. Bolin's uniform of a Captain of the Foreign Legion is better than any pass. The Foreign Legion insignia is accepted in White Spain as a brevet of the elite military.

Commander Most Hospitable. Gen. de Llano's office door was open. A visitor came out the door, also a General. Capt. Bolin asked him if De Llano were in. At that moment, De Llano appeared at the door in civilian clothes, a beach suit crinkled pretty badly. The "Savior of Seville" was most hos-pitabile. He is tall, thin, getting a bit baldish, but has enough hair to part in the middle. His mouth is thin beneath a scanty moustache. He told me how he had taken Seville. He took it by sheer audacity. This was a Red city with tens of thousands of popular supporters ready to go out in the streets and shoot the military, but Gen. de Llano beat them to it. With only 180 soldiers, he knew he could do nothing but die if he took the defensive, so he put his 180 soldiers in automobiles and sent them riding about the city, blazing away at the least sign of resistance.

The first people they met were a group of several hundred Assault Guards, the organization which the Madrid Government had founded to counteract the famous Guardia Civil, who were always inclined to favor the Right.

Thousands Desert Government. These Seville Assault Guards did not know for sure which side they were on, but Gen. de Llano decided for them. The sight of the General's men, the General's own firm behavior, convinced the Assault Guards that this was the winning side, so they joined up instead of resisting. From then on, it was easy and the De Llano army by nightfall numbered thousands. Gen. de Llano made Seville believe he was the band wagon. None of the Whites in Madrid had the same nerve. Instead of going out on the streets and shooting, the officers of the Madrid garrison stayed in their barracks and waited for Gen. Franco's columns from Morocco. But the navy rebelled, killed all their officers, and long before Franco got his airplanes to fly and convey his troops across the Straits of Gibraltar, the officers of the Madrid garrison were overcome, herded together and shot.

The Madrid Shooting. The memory of that shooting of the Madrid officers is one of the strongest motives in the hearts of the White army today. I have seen officers carrying pictures of the shootings, clipped from foreign publications. They were some remarkable pictures.

One of the most vivid and terrible photographs I have ever seen was that of a Madrid officer coming out of the barracks with his hands in the air and a wildly grinning Red militiaman holding an automatic pistol to the officer's head. Another shows the bodies of several score officers in the court of the Montana barracks, with weeping women looking for their dead. These pictures help explain why Reds can expect no mercy when they are captured.

Pleads Own Case, Gets 90 Days. By the Associated Press.

LAMAR, Mo., Sept. 17. — Sherm Wagner was unsuccessful in pleading his own case before a jury here and was sentenced to 90 days in jail on charges of stealing two truck tires. He spent 101 days in jail awaiting trial.

CLIENT TESTIFIES FOR LAWYERS IN FEE SUIT

Says Attorney Chased Out Man Who Said He Got Cases for Him.

John Gardner, 4245 Shenandoah avenue, testified yesterday he had employed Al F. Gerritzen and his brother, Leo W. Gerritzen, as his attorneys in a suit now pending in the Federal Court for damages against the National Lead Co., alleging he contracted silicosis while an employee of the company, after he had heard Al Gerritzen order from his office a man who said he had taken prospective clients there to present silicosis claims.

His testimony was given at a deposition hearing in connection with a suit pending in the Circuit Court, brought by the Gerritzen brothers against the National Lead Co. for $350 attorneys' fees in two other cases, which were settled by the lead company.

Says Man Was Hulsey. Gardner testified that the man who Al Gerritzen had chased from his office was John B. Hulsey of Desloge. In a previous deposition Hulsey had testified that he took here and was sentenced to 90 days in jail on charges of stealing two truck tires. He spent 101 days in jail awaiting trial.

this service and promised him 20 per cent of the proceeds from the case. The Staples case, which was filed by the two Gerritzen's in the Circuit Court for $15,000 damages based on silicosis claims, is one of the two suits settled by the company for which the attorneys are now suing the company claiming fees. Al Gerritzen has denied in his testimony that he paid Hulsey any money, or made any promise of a commission to him. Gardner testified that when he saw Al Gerritzen order the man out of his office, it impressed him, and he decided "that was the kind of man I wanted for my attorney." Hulsey wanted expense money for bringing former employees of the company to Gerritzen's office to file claims he said and Al Gerritzen told him, "Get the hell out of here." Hulsey left saying, "Come on boys, he won't pay for bringing you up here, I'll take you to a lawyer who will."

Tells of Visit to Attorney. The witness explained that not Hulsey but George P. Towns of Cantwell had brought him to St. Louis on the day he went to Gerritzen's office to find out if he had a claim for health impairment against the company. Gardner said that Towns had mentioned the Ger-ritzen firm to him, but had not solicited legal action, and that there was no agreement in his presence between Towns and either of the Gerritzen's, that Towns was to be compensated.

Towns has testified in a previous deposition that he brought Paul R. Davis to Gerritzen's office, was paid $10 and promised a commission. Al Gerritzen in testimony has denied Towns' statement. The Davis claim is the other suit filed by the Gerritzen's and settled by the company on which the attorneys are claiming fees.

Testimony that Dr. John H. Young, former X-ray director at Missouri Baptist Hospital, had examined Staples, Davis, and Gardner, and that his conclusions were that the three men had suffered health impairment from silicosis, was introduced by Gerritzen. Dr. Young, however, has testified that he told Al Gerritzen there was no basis on which to sue from a standpoint of occupational diseases. The attorney testified Dr. Young had told him there was meritorious basis for a suit.

CHICAGO COURT CLERK FOUND $22,560 SHORT

Warrant Charging Embezze-ment Issued Against Missing
Frank V. Zintak.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—A warrant charging Frank V. Zintak, clerk of the Cook County Superior Court, with embezzling $22,560 was issued by Judge Jay A. Schiller yesterday. President Clayton Smith of the County Board said the shortage was uncovered a week ago. Zintak is missing. Officers were ordered to hunt for him.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney said Zintak admitted the shortage Tuesday night and had said the money went for political and other purposes. At that time Zintak promised to get the money together and to deposit it in a Loop bank at 10 a. m. yesterday, but failed to appear.

Zintak, 38 years old, was elected in November, 1932, and was a Democratic candidate for re-election. This is the third case of a shortage in the Cook County building in 18 months.

Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert Crowley said an indictment charging Zintak with violation of a special statute covering defalcations by court clerks would be sought. The statute provides a penalty of imprisonment for one to 15 years.

SUIT FILED TO ENJOIN STATE PURCHASES OF LIQUOR STAMPS

Supervisor Becker and Treasurer
Nacy Alleged to Have Paid
Exorbitant Price.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 17.—Suit for an injunction to restrain Edwin J. Becker, Missouri liquor supervisor, and State Treasurer Richard R. Nacy from purchasing State liquor and beer tax stamps from the Rayner Delecalomias Co. of Illinois was filed in Cole County Circuit Court today by M. Novack, who said he took the action as a taxpayer citizen.

Novack alleged that Becker and Nacy had obligated the State to pay an exorbitant price for the stamps, stating that between last April 27 and last May 20 the Illinois corporation delivered $12,193 of the stamps at the rate of $145 per thousand, whereas similar stamps could have been bought for as low as 75 cents per 1000.

About 1,680,000 of the stamps were delivered Sept. 11, he said. Continuing, he said in the petition Nacy and Becker entered into a purported agreement with the Rayner company, also named a defendant, for purchase of the stamps without requiring competitive bids to be submitted to the Commissioners of Public Printing.

NEW DISORDERS IN PALESTINE

Violence Occurs During Jewish New Year Celebration.

JERUSALEM, Sept. 17. (By Jewish Telegraphic Agency).—New reports of violence were received here today during the celebration of the Jewish New Year in the Holy Land.

A bomb was thrown at a Jew who was on his way to a Jerusalem synagogue. He was unhurt. A Royal Air force man named Findlay was wounded slightly by Arabs at Ramieh. Terrorists again damaged the Iraq Petroleum Co.'s pipeline at Beisan. Polish Potash Co. employees were fired on at three points. British troops were fighting an Arab gang at Kfar Etzion.

94 INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED BY U. S. GRAND JURY

Two Bank Tellers, E. J. Bergman and T. E. Kaiser, Among Those Named in Final Report.

55 CHARGE LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS

Seven Involve Harrison Anti-Narcotic Act, Other Offenses Under Mann and Dyer Acts.

Ninety-four indictments were returned by the Federal grand jury today in its final report to Judge Davis. The jury was discharged and will be replaced by new members to be impaneled next month.

Fifty-five of the indictments charged violations of the internal revenue laws in the sale, manufacture or transportation of liquor. Violations of the Mann act and the Dyer act and other Federal laws were charged in 30 indictments. There were seven indictments charging violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic act. As told elsewhere in this edition, two indictments were returned against Harold J. Kattelman, bankrupt stock broker, and his associates.

Among others indicted were Elmer J. Bergmann, formerly a teller at the Southern & Commercial Savings Bank, and August H. Lichtenberg, proprietor of a tavern, charged with abstracting $5545 from the bank to defraud it. Part of this amount was in checks. Another former bank teller, Theodore E. Kaiser, was indicted on a charge of violating the national banking laws by taking $363 from the Chippewa Trust Co., where he was employed.

Several days after the money was taken last Dec. 8 from the night depository of the Southern & Commercial Bank, Bergmann surrendered to police in Chicago, confessed the theft and turned over $1140, asserting that was all he took except $60 had been spent and $2000 in checks which he had thrown into the Mississippi River while befuddled by liquor.

He told police he had let himself into the bank while drunk and had taken the week-end deposits placed by customers in the outside slot leading to the night depository. Later he told St. Louis police that $4175 in cash was taken and divided equally among himself and two other men who he said had suggested he take the money.

Bergmann, who is 34 years old and married, had been in the employ of the bank 18 years.

Both he and Lichtenberg are under a State charge of grand larceny in the theft of the money from the depository. Lichtenberg, who has denied having any knowledge of the theft, is proprietor of a saloon on South Broadway.

Ex-Teller Admitted Defalcation. When a Federal warrant was issued against Kaiser last July, United States Attorney Blanton said the former teller had admitted having taken $783 of the trust company's money over a period of 18 months before his discharge last December.

Kaiser, who is 34 years old, married and has one child, had worked for the bank 10 years. Officers of the bank said the abstractions were concealed by alteration of customers' deposit slips.

Violations of the national banking laws as charged against Bergmann, Lichtenberg and Kaiser are punishable by not more than five years in prison or a fine of not more than $2000 or both.

Leong Suey, Chinese laundryman, was charged in another indictment with possession of a short-barreled automatic firearm that was not registered with the Collector of Internal Revenue as required by Federal law. He was arrested last February when police found the weapon in his laundry at 3518 Franklin avenue. Violation of the firearms law carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $2000 fine.

The indictment of the Chinese and one making a like charge against Azzie B. Cook of Claryville, Mo., were the first to be returned in this Federal district under the law requiring registration of certain firearms.

Among those indicted under the Harrison anti-narcotic act were three St. Louis druggists, charged with illegal sale of paregoric. Victor Diesing, said in the indictment to be the operator of a drug store at 514 South Fourth street, was charged in 14 counts with selling paregoric to a Federal narcotic inspector. A similar indictment of Edwin and Frieda Otto, said to be the owners of a drug store at 508 South Fourth street, contained 20 counts.

Other indictments charged Joseph Newell, business agent for Operating Engineers' Union Local No. 513, and William Foster, business agent for International Hod Carriers' Local No. 10, with forging 250 identification cards of the National Employment Service in order to put men of their own selection to work on the St. Louis express highway. Alois Schendzielorz and six Negroes were charged with possessing and passing counterfeit money and Raymond Skates with manufacturing copper plates for making $1 bills, in other indictments returned by the grand jury.

BEATRICE GOTTIEB, GOLFER, CHARGES ASSAULT IN CABARET

Taken to Hospital in New York for Treatment; Inn Proprietor Held.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Beatrice Gottlieb, 28 years old, golfer who defeated King Edward VIII when he was Prince of Wales, was taken to Metropolitan Hospital today for treatment after alleging she was assaulted in a cabaret at Rockaway Beach, Queens.

Carey Phelan, 44, proprietor of the Seaside Inn at Rockaway Beach, was charged with the assault and arraigned in Magistrate's court at Jamaica yesterday. He pleaded not guilty, bail was fixed at $1000 and hearing was set for Oct. 1.

Detective James Donahue quoted Miss Gottlieb as saying that while she was at the inn with friends, Phelan entered the women's room and assaulted her Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Joyce Bushel, counsel for the golfer, told Magistrate G. W. M. Wieboldt her client had been under the care of a physician in her room at the Hotel Sutton, Manhattan. Early today she was taken to the hospital for treatment of a fractured left hand and internal injuries.

GUILD AND UNIONS DEAF TO HEARST'S THREAT IN SEATTLE

Strikers Think Owner Is Bluffing in Saying He Will Liquidate Newspaper Property.

By the Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 17.—The Seattle chapter of the American Newspaper Guild said today its members would not be deterred by a threat made yesterday in the name of William Randolph Hearst, the owner, to liquidate the newspaper property unless the strike was settled immediately.

The Seattle Central Labor Council last night ignored a plea of business men to take the newspaper off the "unfair" list and withdraw picket lines before "suspension" became permanent.

Charles B. Lindeman, associate publisher, declined to say whether the Council's attitude would affect a previously announced decision "to defer action for a brief period" on permanent closing.

H. Richard Sells, president of the Seattle Guild, said intimations that the Post-Intelligencer would suspend permanently were "only a bluff which has been called."

Edwin S. Smith, National Labor Relations Board Examiner, neared the end of testimony in the case of two former Post-Intelligencer employees, Frank M. Lynch, news photographer, and Everhard Armstrong, dramatic critic, whose discharges precipitated the strike Aug. 13 and the paper's indefinite suspension.

Under direct examination of Robert Watts, associate general counsel for the Labor Board, Lynch testified yesterday that there was no talk of lack of efficiency in the photographic department. "They just seemed to cool off on me a little" after his Guild connection became known, he said.

Lynch testified that he received a $5 a week raise this summer and was called into a conference with Lindeman and other executives at which he "got a lot of good ideas" and heard no criticism of his work, but thereafter, he said, Oliver S. Morris, city editor, asked him if he had noticed his raise and then told him, "a very bad situation has come up in your department—a member of it has joined the American Newspaper Guild."

Lynch testified Morris said the man was Jack Heise, who resigned before the strike. He said Morris characterized Heise as "a very promising fellow," who could "go a long way, but this Guild is organized to fight Hearst, and we're not going to pay money to employees to send back to fight Hearst."

"He (Morris) asked me if I'd use my influence to get him (Heise) to resign from the Guild," Lynch said. "I told him I couldn't, because I belonged to the Guild myself."

Lynch said he lost his $5 raise and a week or two later his successor, Sam Sansone, arrived. Examiner Smith, after a conference with Labor Board and Hearst attorneys today, announced adjournment of the hearing until 10 a. m. tomorrow, "by agreement of counsel." Smith declined to state the reason for the adjournment.

State Osteopaths' Convention.

Approximately 350 osteopaths from Missouri and Southern Illinois are expected to attend the State convention of the Missouri Osteopathic Association to be held at Hotel Statler, Oct. 14 to 16. National officers have been invited by officials of the State association. Local and national matters will be discussed at the three-day meeting.

Ruling on Bicycle Licenses.

City License Collector Fred A. Renick said yesterday that bicycles used by children not older than 12 years are not required to be licensed. The collector recently asked police to enforce more rigidly the ordinance requiring bicycles operated in St. Louis to be licensed. He estimated that about 5000 were in use by persons who had not paid the $1 tax.

DON'T SCRATCH, SOOTHE THE IRRITATION

Quick relief from the maddening itch of eczema, poison ivy, and kindred irritations is obtained by applying an ointment called Resinol. Leave it on over night. It lessens the desire to scratch, and eases the irritation.

The soothing effect of Resinol takes the sting out of the irritated parts and makes you comfortable. The skin heals sooner, too, with the help of Resinol.

The only base of Resinol Ointment is ideal for penetrating the outer layers of the skin and securing deeper action. Bathing the affected parts first with Resinol Soap hastens the effectiveness of Resinol Ointment. Many nurses suggest and use Resinol—why don't you try it!

Buy Resinol Ointment and Soap in any drug store. For free sample, write to Resinol, Dept. 4, Baltimore, Md.

TEST LETTER TRAPS CARRIER IN MAIL THEFTS ON ROUTE

Postman Arrested, Admits Taking $100 From 40 Envelopes in Cahanne District.

The taking of a test letter in the mail by Postoffice inspectors, addressed to an installment furniture house and containing $4, led to the arrest and the issuance of a warrant yesterday against Charles P. Anderson, 29 years old, a temporary letter carrier, in the postal service about a year.

Suspicion was directed toward Anderson following reports that many letters on his route in the Cahanne district had not been delivered. Following his arrest, he admitted, Postoffice Inspector H. W. Stark said, that he had stolen between 40 and 50 letters containing a total of about $100. He waived a preliminary hearing before Commissioner John A. Burke and was released on $1000 bond.

40 PWA PROJECTS UNDER CONSTRUCTION IN STATE

Total Cost Estimated at $52,150,000, Acting Director Reports; 3354 Men Employed.

The Public Works Administration program in Missouri now includes 40 projects under construction at a total estimated cost of $52,150,823, financed in whole or in part with funds provided by the National Industrial Recovery Act of 1933, and employing 3354 men, it was announced today by Harry J. McNerney, acting State director.

Work now being done on the projects is under contracts totaling $21,265,352. Ninety-eight undertakings, involving a construction cost of $8,245,611 have been completed.

Work was begun last week on the Psychiatric Clinic and Hospital Building at Fulton, at a contract price of $446,000, and on the Marshall electric power plant, piling, structural steel and plumbing contract at a price of $66,112.

CANDIDATE SAYS HORNER MADE PEACE WITH MACHINE

Republican Nominee for Attorney-General of Illinois Speaks in East St. Louis.

Charles W. Hadley, Republican candidate for Attorney-General of Illinois, charged that "Gov. Horner has realigned himself with the Kelly-Nash machine of Cook County and Chicago." In a political speech last night at Elks' Club in East St. Louis.

"Don't let him fool you for a minute," Hadley said. "He has patched up differences and they literally have kissed and made up." He said that $258,000,000 in taxes had been collected during the Horner administration as compared to $80,000,000 paid in the Emerson administration.

Knight of Glin Dies in Ireland.

GLIN CASTLE, County Limerick, Irish Free State, Sept. 17.—Desmond Fitzgerald, Lloyd Fitzgerald, twenty-sixth holder of the ancient Irish title, Knight of Glin, died today. He was 74 years old.

FIRE PISTOL IN COURTROOM, WOUNDS HIMSELF AT DETROIT

Man Says He Wanted to Bring "Shame and Disgrace and Notoriety" on Judge.

DETROIT, Sept. 17.—A man armed with a pistol fired into walls and the ceiling of Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson's courtroom today. Neither the judge nor court attendants had arrived and no one was injured except the man, who gave his name as Josea Janek.

Viewing Janek later at a hospital, Judge Ferguson said he recognized him as a man involved in a divorce case two years ago. "Get out of here," screamed Janek upon seeing the judge. "You broke up my home. You're no good. I voted for you and you broke up my home and turned my wife away. Go on away."

Janek was wounded slightly in his right arm. "I wanted to shoot myself in front of you in your courtroom, so it would bring shame and disgrace and notoriety on you," Janek said. The only person in the courtroom when the shooting began was Harold F. Blake, an attorney, who managed to pin Janek's arms until help came.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH Catalan Loyalists Flock to Join Militia But Lack Good Officers

Absence of Discipline One of Main Weaknesses—Men Camp Wherever They Can in Drive on Zaragoza.

From the Manchester Guardian.

BARCELONA, Aug. 22. Immediately after the defeat of the Fascists in Barcelona itself recruiting was begun for a regular anti-Fascist militia, to be composed of loyal soldiers, civil guards, shock police and civilian volunteers.

Enlistment went on amid great enthusiasm, some 28,000 men and women joining up in the first two days. The columns were formed separately by each political or trade union organization, the biggest being those enrolled by the anarchists. The columns set out at once for Saragossa (Zaragoza), which cuts the main communications with Madrid and the north.

It appears that solidly Carlist Navarre was more interested in forcing an outlet to the sea at or near San Sebastian than in coming to the support of Saragossa, which, they believe, can hold out indefinitely. After three weeks warfare this appears to be the opinion here, too. Militiamen are enlisted for the duration, which is estimated at a minimum of three months.

Lack of Gasoline.

This is not a large-scale operation. Although the Catalan anti-Fascists have put some 20,000 men in the field and although there should be some 17,000 rebels in Saragossa, an air flight along the front gives one the impression that there are not more than four or five thousand men actually engaged.

In Saragossa, where life is normal as it is in Barcelona, the soldiers are kept in barracks, and volunteers, many of them women, patrol the streets. Like Barcelona, the chief lack of gasoline, especially for the planes at the Logrono airfield, which have not yet come fully into action. It appears that these are not of high quality, and this may account for the failure to bomb Barcelona.

On the loyalist side the militia has no officers worth mentioning. They call it "bureaucratic centralization." They do not yet realize that this is not street fighting but open-country warfare against organized, experienced, disciplined, desperate and well-armed troops. On the other hand, the rebels lack the revolutionary urge.

The lack of discipline, central command and co-ordination are the main weaknesses of the militia. How far they are set off by the revolutionary enthusiasm which fills them is a difficult question.

The rivalry to be first into Saragossa is at the basis of all this confusion. It would be enormous prestige for the organization that was first there to be able to proclaim itself victor of Saragossa. A small unified Socialist column rivaling Durutti's anarchists got within 10 miles of Saragossa the other day. Only one man returned.

Food Coupons Used.

The columns live in trains, freight cars, buses and confiscated Fascist houses. The Village People's Committees administer food supplies, which are distributed in return for authoritative coupons. In few centers there is real confusion. The militia men take the raw food to the houses to have it cooked. Cafes are not allowed to serve any one man more than one drink at a time—and at a time means within about five hours. It is impossible to observe any drunkenness. If a man is found drunk he is shot. The columns, especially the anarchists, make short work of would-be looters. A few are sent back to Barcelona to be dealt with formally. Most stay at the front.

In most of the villages that are occupied each column sets up a regime after its own heart's desire. There are Village Soviets, Libertarian Communes, and ordinary municipalities now in existence all over Aragon. Usually, however, these regimes are simply the outcome of the situation. The right-wing landowners' goods are confiscated and placed at the disposal of the village, rent abolished, the church turned into a dressing station, and payment for necessities made by coupons issued either by the column's Political Committee or by the Village People's Committee.

Convenience in War.

The fighting is convenient for all. It begins after early breakfast.

SHIFT TO PRIVATE LENDERS IN FARM MORTGAGE FINANCING

Non-Federal Money Accounts for 73 Per Cent of Investments in First Five Months of 1936.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—A shift in farm mortgage financing from Federal agencies to private lenders during the first five months of this year is reported by the Farm Credit Administration.

The administration said private lenders had invested $273,300,000 or nearly 73 per cent of the estimated total amount of farm mortgages during the period, while Federal Land Banks and commissioner accounted for $102,300,000, or 27 per cent of the total. This compared with $1,727,000,000 lent by the Federal Farm Credit agencies in 1934 and 1935, while all other creditors in this field were lending $1,027,000,000.

Banks and insurance companies expanded their investments in farm mortgages during the first part of this year compared with the same period in 1935, the administration said, while the volume of farm loans by private individuals decreased slightly.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1936 YOUNG MAN FOUND GUILTY OF KILLING SISTER'S FRIEND

Fred Chilcott Convicted of Manslaughter in Shooting of E. S. Stewart at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 17.—Fred Chilcott, 21 years old, former San Diego College art student, was convicted last night of manslaughter in the death of Edward Sartor Stewart, 24, of Louisville, Ky. Chil-cott will be sentenced tomorrow. The penalty is one to 10 years in prison, and because a firearm was used in the crime, probation cannot be granted.

Stewart was shot and killed Aug. 15 in front of Chilcott's home. Chilcott testified he believed that Stewart, former University of Kentucky student, was attempting to entice his sister, Marjorie, to leave home. Marjorie testified that Stewart merely was assisting her in moving from the home of her mother to that of her father, at San Jacinto, Cal.

Three in Auto Killed by Train.

ROCKY FORD, Colo., Sept. 17.—Three persons were killed and one injured late last night when their car was struck by a Santa Fe passenger train two miles east of here. The dead: The Rev. J. W. H. Moul, pastor of the Baptist Church at Rocky Ford, who came here in March from Warrensburg, Mo.; his daughter, Bonnie, 18, and Mrs. P. R. Baker, 50, of Rocky Ford.

MAN ADMITS KILLING WIFE, 72, WITH CLUB

Ohio Farmer 'Pasted Her One' for Accusing Him of Burning Flower Seed.

By the Associated Press.
MARION, O., Sept. 17.—Prosecutor Paul D. Michel and Sheriff Fred F. Miller announced last night that Charles Warwick, 66-year-old farmer, had confessed beating his wife to death with a pitchfork handle.

Wallace Ault, a neighbor, found Mrs. Warwick late yesterday as she lay dying in her farm home nine miles east of her. Ault said he had met Warwick, who told him his wife had been injured in a fall and needed a physician. Mrs. Warwick made a deathbed statement to Prosecutor Michel that her husband had beaten her in a quarrel "over nothing."

Warwick said he got a two-foot section of a pitchfork handle, and "then I pasted her one."

SAN FERNANDO CHURCH, 100 YEARS OLD, RESTORED

Adobe Mission Building in California Repaired by Modern Craftsmen; Religious Services Resumed.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FERNANDO, Cal., Sept. 17.—After standing in ruins for 50 years, the historic adobe church of San Fernando Mission is again the scene of religious services, due to science and modern craftsmen. The ravages of earthquakes, the rains of 100 winters and the depredations of vandals have been repaired somewhat and Sunday afternoon benediction services were begun within the gray walls in connection with the 139th anniversary of the founding of the mission this month.

Wide cracks in the walls of the building have been repaired with adobe; buttresses have been rebuilt with fired brick, and a new tiled roof, supported by a steel cradle independent of the crumbling walls, has been placed over it.

CUMMINGS ON COURTS AND THE CONSTITUTION

Learned Men May Honestly Differ on Law When New Problems are Presented.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Attorney-General Cummings said today, in a Constitution day address, that law must accommodate itself to the necessities of a vital and expanding nation.

Speaking before the Washington Kiwanis Club, Cummings said his intent was not to comment on recent constitutional cases, but to direct attention to "the fact that learned and patriotic men may honestly take differing views of constitutional questions when new problems of a perplexing nature are presented."

"The American constitutional method is a process of adaptation and growth," he said, "it is a means whereby wrongs may be corrected and the governmental measures may be attuned to the essentials of justice through the orderly ways of discussion and education."

"We have established a constitution, which is supreme over all the acts of government, legislative, executive and judicial alike, because it is the highest expression of the popular will. Of necessity, it employs broad language which leaves a wide area for legitimate differences of opinion. Within this arena of discussion all voices must be heard."

"The courts may give, and as a rule do give, less weight to what they feel to be temporary currents of opinion, casual pressures for reform, evanescent aspirations of momentary ideals as contrasted with what they may properly regard as the confirmed and enlightened sense of justice developed by the changing life of a vital and growing nation."

The history of constitutional development, the Attorney-General said, "is the story of a conflict of view between those who may roughly be described as strict constructionists and those who may be regarded as broad constructionists."

"It would be a rash person," he said, "who would maintain that members of the bench who adhere to one school of constitutional interpretation were more patriotic, or more devoted to the Constitution, than their brethren who entertain contrary opinions... These differences of opinion are as natural as the varying temperaments of men."

SUSPECT FREED IN 1929 SOUGHT IN DECAPITATIONS

Man Ordered Arrested in Cleveland After Finding of New Bodies

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 17.—A suspect, held when a headless body was discovered here in 1929, was ordered arrested today in the investigation of the six decapitation murders here within a year.

Detectives said the 1929 killing fitted the pattern of the killings at Kingsbury Run, where most of the six bodies have been found, the latest a week ago today.

The 1929 killing was never solved. As in the recent series, the head was not found and police said the decapitation was done with a heavy razor or a long knife. Failure to find the head resulted in the suspect's release.

Police are questioning a 45-year-old peddler, said to be carrying several knives when arrested.

Police also are trying to find relatives of Patrick Casey, 18 years old, a section hand missing since Aug. 31. He had frequented the Kingsbury Run region.

MILWAUKEE GAS PLANT STRIKE

30 Operating Engineers Walk Out

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 17.—Union operating engineers at the Milwaukee Coke and Gas Co. plant went on strike today for higher wages.

Philip J. Kingsland, union business agent, said 30 engineers left their jobs and nine supervisory employees remained to continue operations. The plant, supplying cooking gas to the Milwaukee Gas Light Co. for distribution to the city's homes, employs 400 persons. The plant supplies only part of the city's gas.

Durocher and Medwick Each Fined $25 by Frick

GOODMAN TO OPPOSE FISCHER; M'LEAN IS LONE FOREIGN THREAT

PARMELEE WILL PITCH FIRST GAME AGAINST CUBS

By J. Roy Stockton.
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.
CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Joe Medwick and Capt. Leo Durocher of the Cardinals received telegrams from President Ford Frick of the National League on their arrival here this afternoon, informing them that they had been fined $25 each for their row with Umpire Stewart during yesterday's doubleheader at Philadelphia.

Manager Frisch, who was put out of the first game by Umpire Bill Klem, received no notice of penalty.

Frisch said this afternoon that he had decided definitely to pitch Larry Parmelee in the first game of the series with the Cubs tomorrow and to try to get through without using Dizzy Dean until Sunday. The Redbirds were here to defend a half-game margin over the third-place Cubs of Charley Grimm.

Frisch tried to get by the Philadelphia doubleheader yesterday with a minimum of labor for his first-string pitchers, but when the Phil took the first game, 7 to 3, and tied the score in the seventh inning of the nightcap, he had to relieve Silas Johnson with Dizzy Dean, who had been scheduled to open against the Cubs.

"There is quite a difference between second-place money and the amount that goes to the third-place team, and it is very much worth our while to fight through the remaining games," Frisch said. "I told the players that during yesterday's doubleheader and I'll tell them that again in Chicago. This race isn't over yet, and who knows—the Giants might even fall dead."

However, the Cardinals are not looking for any such wholesale casualty in the ranks of the Giants and they know that second place is the most profitable goal they now can hope for.

Frisch was ordered off the field by Klem for protesting a called third strike pitched to Art Garibaldi during the third inning of the first game and before the argument ended Frisch and Klem had acted like a couple of school boys, making faces and sticking out their tongues at each other. This may not sound like conduct becoming a big league manager, but to mention the conduct of the team of all umpires, and Ford Frick may be somewhat peeved.

GIANTS DEFEAT DODGERS, 17-3; LEAD CARDINALS BY FIVE GAMES

BROOKLYN, Sept. 17.—The Giants walloped the Brooklyn Dodgers here this afternoon in the first game of a series of three and increased their first place lead over the Cardinals, who were idle, to five games.
The Score was 17 to 3.
The Giants pounded out four doubles in the first inning to score two runs and counted another in the second on two more two-baggers. Joe Moore and Dick Bartell led off the game with consecutive two-base hits but the latter was caught off second. Mel Ott struck out but Hank Leiber and Bill Terry followed with two more doubles to fashion the other run. In the second Burgess Whitehead and Gabler put together their two-base blows for the third run.

The Dodgers caught the idea in the second, Babe Phelps doubling to get in position to score on Buddy Hassett's single.
The Giants just about put the clincher on the affair by scoring two more in the third and seven in the fourth. The Dodgers added one in the third, making the Giants' lead 12 to 2 in the last of the fourth. Two walks and singles by Travis Jackson and Burgess Whitehead produced the Giant pair in the third. In the fourth, two walks and Dick Bartell's single loaded the bases, and Hank Leiber promptly unloaded them with a homer into Hill of Kansas City, extreme right, the champion, in the semifinals of the state golf tournament, tomorrow, at Algonquin. They are the last four of 111 players who started Monday in the qualifying round.

Miss Guth, 2 Down With 3 to Go, Wins In State Golf Meet

By W. J. McGoogan.

ALGONQUIN GOLF CLUB, Sept. 17.—Rallying gamely, after facing what seemed almost certain defeat, Miss Sara Louise Guth, St. Louis district champion, reached the semifinal round of the second annual Missouri women's golf tournament here today with a one up victory over Mrs. J. L. Bauman, her Algonquin clubmate.

Miss Guth was 1 down after nine holes and then lost the next two and it was not until No. 17 that she squared the match and won it at the eighteenth with a par 5 against Mrs. Bauman's 6, when Mrs. Bauman's ball barely missed the cup for a hole.

Mrs. Bauman tried to end the contest at the seventeenth when she went for a putt for a deuce, but went far past and took two more putts to get down to lose the hole and even matters after Miss Guth had taken No. 16 with a birdie four.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City, defending champion and medalist, marched through her third match, winning to the tune of 7 and 5 from Mrs. Harry E. Davis of Algonquin. Mrs. Hill was out in 40 for the third time in match play and didn't lose a hole to Mrs. Davis. The champion has not lost a hole since match play began.

Miss Anna Sue Kennedy of Columbia, Mo., defeated Mrs. Richard L. Coughen, Sunset Hill, 2 up.

Mrs. H. H. Silverforb, Kansas City, defeated Mrs. G. A. Bodell, Algonquin, 1 up.

CALIFORNIAN BREAKS 100 TARGETS, LEADS IN TITLE EVENT

BRIDLESPUR HUNT CLUB, Sept. 17.—California's husky, sunburned Harry H. Fleischmann of Santa Monica took at least temporary leadership in the all-gauge team and individual 250-target battle, when he finished the first day's rounds with a 100 straight.

Grant Ilseing of Fresno, Cal., and E. E. Garland, of Belleville, N. J., were tied at 99, while Alexander Kerr of Los Angeles scored 98. Bobby Stack of Beverly Hills, Cal., newly crowned 1936 20-gauge champion, finished his four 25-shot rounds with a 97.

Fleischmann's 100 and Ilseing's 99, enabled the Los Angeles-Santa Monica team to take a temporary leadership in that event with a total score of 485.

The L. A. Santa Monica has won the National Telegraphic team title for the past three years, defeating a few months ago the strong Tyler, Calif. team.

COURAY'S COLUMN

A Year of Bad Breaks.

PHYSICALLY the year 1936 will be remembered as the year of bad breaks, by at least three heavyweights. For Joe Louis, the break was perhaps biggest and worst of all. That was when Max Schmeling flattened him.

For Schmeling, who had a shot at Jimmy Braddock in prospect, with a championship and a million dollar gate just around the corner, the big opportunity of his career was a called off.

For Braddock, holder of the title, arthritis stopped him and prevented a fight that might have confirmed his title and rendered him financially independent for the remainder of his days.

For First Time in Eight Years, British Colors Reach United States Amateur Golf Semifinals—Goodman Hard Pressed by Ray Billows.

By the Associated Press.
GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Scotland's Jack McLean carried the British colors into the semifinals of the United States amateur golf championship today for the first time in eight years with a 3 and 1 victory over John F. Riddell Jr., home club star.

McLean's victory qualified the 26-year-old Scot to battle the veteran George Voigt tomorrow, at 36 holes. Two American Walker cup stars, Johnny Goodman of Omaha and Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, meet in the upper half semifinal.

Omaha's Johnny Goodman, the tournament favorite, pulled through to beat Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., 2 and 1, thereby advancing to the semifinal bracket with Fischer.

George Voigt, New York veteran, eliminated the last hope of the Far West, Seattle's Scotty Campbell, 4 and 3, after refusing to take any first-aid measures for a slight finger cut from a doctor who was summoned in an ambulance during the closing stages of the match.

Voigt treated his mishap as a joke, declining even to have the finger taped. It was caused by breaking a piece of string off a club. Neither the commotion caused by the ambulance arrival on the course, or the injury, affected the veteran's game.

Campbell, who started the tourney a co-favorite with Goodman, was subdued by Voigt's machine-like steadiness. Scotty's control, especially around the greens, cracked under pressure. He failed to gauge his approaches in the wind and constantly was scrambling to keep within hailing distance.

Shooting par golf with a strong finish, Goodman, the tournament favorite, led the way in the sixth round by trouncing 18-year-old John Langley of London, England, 5 and 3, this morning.

Billows Makes It Close.
Goodman had the hardest kind of a tussle with Billows. They were all square at the turn. A bulldog fighter, Billows lost the tenth, but came back to square the match at the fourteenth.

The break finally went against Billows on the next two holes, both of which he lost to Goodman's steadier shotmaking around the greens. Billows was trapped twice on the fifteenth. Both were bunkered on the spot, but Goodman emerged three feet from the hole, to get his par, while his opponent took a five. It was all over on the seventeenth, which they halved in fives after again being trapped.

Billows, the Poughkeepsie printing salesman, qualified to challenge Goodman in this afternoon's quarterfinals by whipping Larry Lloyd of Portchester, N. Y., 4 and 3.

Billows rallied with characteristic tenacity after losing two of the first three holes to Goodman. The former New York State amateur champion chipped dead to the fifth pin for a birdie and squared

Says There Is Urgent Need for "Proper Federal-State Water and Soil Conservation Plan."

By the Associated Press.
TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 17.—Gov. Alf M. Landon, preparing to carry his presidential campaign into the agricultural Midwest, said today the Republican party offers a "dependable, permanent program" to replace "present stop-gap policies" of this administration.

He left details for discussion at Des Moines Tuesday in the first of three major speeches to be made in the tour.

"I am happy to accept invitations to speak at Des Moines, Minneapolis and Milwaukee and to visit with my fellow citizens in the agricultural Midwest and lake states," the Governor said.

"Policies Need to Be Replaced."
"The present stop-gap policies of this administration need to be replaced by a dependable, permanent program that will give farming the equality it deserves. The Republican party has such a program."

"The policies by which this administration is trading off the market of the American farmer must be changed. Droughts and floods have made imperative a proper Federal-state water and soil conservation program, so far neglected by the present administration. A well-worked-out land-use program has become a necessity."

"I shall have something to say on these as well as other subjects." The Midwest tour will be through Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois. He will speak Sept. 24 at Minneapolis and Sept. 26 at Milwaukee. The three speeches will be broadcast, each scheduled for 8:20 p. m. St. Louis time.

"Tomorrow at 2 p. m. Landon will address a national conference of young Republican leaders here. The address will be broadcast."

Holt and Landon Confer.
United States Senator Rush D. Holt (Dem.), West Virginia, conferred with Landon yesterday and later told newsmen he was favorably impressed with the Republican nominee.

"I won't make any statement on whom I am going to support for the presidency," he said. "I may announce it later and I may not. I want to see whether the administration is sincere about cleaning up."

Holt said he had an extensive file to prove his charges of politics in the Works Progress Administration.

"Will you give it to the Governor?" he was asked.

"If he wants it," the Senator replied. "I'll give it to anybody who wants it. I feel it is public property, and the WPA doesn't think so; they won't give you a payroll."

LLOYD GEORGE SAYS GERMANY ISN'T READY TO FIGHT RUSSIA

Back From Germany, He Calls Hitler the George Washington of His Country.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—David Lloyd George, after a visit to Germany, writes of Adolf Hitler in the Daily Express.

"The fact that Hitler rescued his country from the fear of a repetition of its period of despair and penury and humiliation has given him unchallenged authority in modern Germany," says the former Premier.

"He is the George Washington of his country independence from all her oppressors."

"I found everywhere a fierce, uncompromising hostility to Russian Bolshevism, coupled with a genuine admiration for the British people."

"Nor have they vindictive feelings toward the French."

"Germany is no more ready to invade Russia than she is for a military expedition to the moon. It will take Germany at least 10 years to build up an army strong enough to face the armies of Russia or France on any soil except her own."

Named to St. Louis Railroad Post. By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—The board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad has confirmed the appointment, effective immediately, of W. W. Patchell, formerly superintendent of the Indianapolis division, to superintendent of the St. Louis division, succeeding J. G. Sheaffer, resigned.

Campaign Sidelights

Anybody Who Can Figure Can Prove Whatever He Wants to by Results of the Maine Election.

By Paul Y. Anderson,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. ALMOST anyone can "prove" almost anything by the Maine election returns, provided he has a sharp pencil, a clean sheet of paper and a moderately clear understanding of what he wishes to "prove." That a large number of persons have all three is amply attested by their published utterances.

"As Maine goes, so goes the nation," is an adage which has a nice ring, only it doesn't happen to be the ring of truth. In presidential years Maine is normally Republican by at least 50,000 votes. Four years ago Hoover carried it by more than 37,000 votes. It was one of the six states he saved from the landslide. Before that, Harding carried it by 77,000 and Coolidge by 96,000. In Monday's senatorial election a colorless and undistinguished Republican candidate, Senator White, obtained a plurality of about 5,000 over his able and popular Democratic opponent, Gov. Brann, while the Republican nominee for Governor was winning by 57,000.

So what? To say that Landon will carry Maine in November throws about as much light on the outcome of the presidential election as to say that Roosevelt will carry Georgia. The real significance of the Maine result was to confirm the universal impression that Democratic membership in the next House of Representatives will be very greatly reduced. As a starter, it replaced two Democratic Congressmen with two Republicans.

Maryland Much More Consistent Barometer.

MUCH more accurate than the Maine adage is the rule: "As Maryland goes, so goes the nation." Only once in the last 52 years has it failed. That is, in 12 of the last 13 presidential contests, the candidate who won Maryland also won the election. The lone exception was when Harrison defeated Cleveland in 1888, and on that occasion the two candidates were separated in Maryland by less than 7,000 votes.

Unfortunately for soothsayers and bookmakers, Maryland has no preliminary election from which its trend in presidential races may be deduced. However, a straw vote is in progress there, which, for very good reasons, is exciting exceptional interest. The poll is being conducted by the Baltimore "Sunpapers" through the unimpeachable method of mailing ballots to all registered voters. Although traditionally Democratic in presidential campaigns, the "Sunpapers" recently announced editorially that they could not support President Roosevelt for re-election. This circumstance gives a certain fillip to the fact that their poll, to date has Roosevelt leading Landon in Maryland in a ratio of nearly two to one, today's result giving 40,000 to Landon's 25,000. In Baltimore, where the Sun's influence might be expected to predominate, the President's margin is two to one.

Michigan and Defeat of Senator Couzens.

MORE ominous, perhaps, and certainly more important in concrete consequences than what has happened in either Maine or Maryland, was the outcome of the Michigan primary which re-elected James Couzens from the Senate, and possibly ended his public career. The size of his opponent's majority—more than 120,000 votes—stunned Washington observers, who had come to regard Couzens as an institution, impregnable and unbeatable.

There was ample warrant for the respect in which his political prowess was held. Not since he retired from the Ford Company with almost more money than he knew what to do with, and launched into public life as Mayor of Detroit and a champion of municipally-owned utilities, had the "man who looks like a million dollars" encountered a major reverse. He was the despair of opposition. His personal and political independence, his numerous philanthropies, his stern integrity and the undebatable altruism of his motives, combined to make him seem invulnerable. One opponent exclaimed, with an exasperation calculated to arouse a certain sympathy: "How the hell can you beat a guy that gives a million a year to charity!"

Deliberate Sacrifice or Over-Confidence?

WHETHER Couzens deliberately sacrificed himself in an effort to aid Roosevelt, or whether overconfidence led him to believe that he could shoulder the extra burden of having endorsed the Democratic nominee for President without fatally endangering his own chances in a Republican senatorial primary, will doubtless be a subject of dispute. But among those who knew him well there was not the slightest doubt that he meant every word when he said, in the course of his campaign for renomination: "What happens to me is not important to me or to the nation. The all-important thing is the re-election of President Roosevelt in November."

He carried his independence and combativeness so near the border of perverseness that a colleague jokingly remarked: "The quickest way to make Jim Couzens mad is to agree with him."

During the Coolidge-Mellon era a measure was introduced in the Senate to reduce Federal inheritance taxes. It was adopted, although Couzens voted against it. A few minutes after the roll call I encountered him in the Senate lobby. Chuckling, he said:

"If my vote had decided that matter the other way, and the result had been on the statute books when I died, how much do you suppose it would have cost my kids? Naturally I had not the remotest idea. 'I can't say exactly,' remarked the rubicund Senator, 'but it would have been somewhere around $14,000,000 to $18,000,000.' He added: 'Been a damned good thing, too. It's very bad for young people to inherit too much money. I'm trying to give most of mine away.'"

One Millionaire Who Doesn't Think Like One.

THAT was a sample of but one quality which made Couzens unique in the Senate and a faint indication of the extent to which he will be missed. The Senate contains several millionaires, but, with the exception of the late Brewster Cutting of New Mexico, Couzens was the only one within memory whose philosophy and conduct were definitely opposed to the economic interests of the class to which he belonged. This, coupled with the manner in which he had made his own fortune, lent extraordinary authority to his voice on legislation. Nobody could accuse him of having an axe to grind. No industrial magnate could put on airs toward him.

Already the hope is being expressed by many men in business, regardless of its complexion, will be able to make use, in the public service, of Jim Couzens' character and devotion, and his unexampled knowledge of the joint problems of government and business.

Conditions in Europe Are a Roosevelt Asset.

TROUBLED conditions in Europe are likely to constitute a valuable campaign asset for President Roosevelt. The argument will be advanced—is being advanced now—that when Hitler is brandishing the sword at Russia, and building military roads up to the Czechoslovakian border; when Spain is rent by a revolution in which outside nations are openly participating; when Britain is frantically arming, and Mussolini is boasting of the 8,000,000 men he can call to arms—that this is not the time to distrust the conduct of our foreign relations to the man from Topopos. Moreover, if there is one phase of Roosevelt's administration which has enjoyed comparative freedom from criticism, it has been his handling of foreign relations. It is a common saying that this is the first administration since the end of the World War that has not been traded out of its woolen underwear by the trading diplomats of Europe. And the last three years have provided a strong contrast with the preceding ones when American Marines were chasing so-called "bandits" through the jungles of Nicaragua and Haiti.

Since Gov. Landon has never had an opportunity to exhibit his talents in the field of international affairs, the comparison is hardly fair to him. For all anyone knows, he may be an embodiment of the principal virtues of Talleyrand and Bismarck, but who is going to set that idea to the voters? Can John D. M. Hamilton do it?

CHINESE CITY PREPARING FOR COMMUNIST SIEGE

Residents of Lanchow Warned to Lay in Supplies; Buying Sends Prices Up.

By the Associated Press.
LANCHOW, China, Sept. 17.—Residents of Lanchow today were warned by authorities today to gather large supplies of food in preparation for a possible siege by Communists. The warning started buying, which in turn caused prices to rise. The action was taken to indicate official fear that the Chinese Communist invasion from the southwest might last for six months or more.

By the Associated Press.
SHANGHAI, Sept. 17.—Defiant soldiers of the Chinese Nineteenth Route army began evacuation of Pakhoi today, dispatches from Canton and Hongkong say. They have been opposing both Chinese and Japanese investigation of the killing of a Japanese resident. Provincial troops from Kwangtung, the dispatches add, are moving in to take control.

ROOSEVELT CALLS FOR INCREASE IN PRIVATE CHARITY

National Income Will Soon Be Double What It Was at Low Point of Depression, He Says.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—President Roosevelt told an annual meeting of the Mobilization for Human Needs today that national income soon would be double what it was at the low point of the depression and that "confidence has returned to the great mass of our people."

Several times he referred to "returning prosperity" and on that thesis built an argument that private relief organizations should expect a larger measure of private aid and that every individual has a greater obligation to aid in the relief of distress in his or her own community.

From the south portico of the White House, the President spoke to delegates gathered on the lawn. The organization seeks support for those social services financed by private funds rather than by taxes.

Text of Address.
The text of the address follows: "Once more I greet the representatives of our great annual Mobilization for Human Needs."

"We are all heartened by clear evidences of returning prosperity. You are here in spite of that fact and because of that fact. Returning prosperity means that you have a right to expect greater assistance for your splendid work in every community. Returning prosperity means, however, that a vast amount of important work which all of us had to defer during the depression years, can and must be taken up anew."

"As I told you in former years, when human distress reaches the point that Government assistance is necessary, Government up to the limit of its local, its State and its Federal resources must and does act. Happily, private organizations are now in a better position to accomplish greater things than for

Democrats Discussing Possible Election Contest in Maine

SENATOR JOSEPH GUFFEY, GOV. LOUIS BRANN, JAMES A. FARLEY, CHAIRMAN of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, Governor of Maine and defeated candidate for United States Senator, and Democratic National Chairman in conference in New York yesterday. Guffey announced Senator Wallace H. White Jr.'s re-election in Maine by about 5,000 votes would be contested on Brann's behalf.

BRANN CONFIRMS POSSIBILITY OF RECOUNT IN MAINE

Defeated Democratic Candidate for Senator Says There Is Evidence of Law Violation.

By the Associated Press.
PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 17.—Gov. Louis J. Brann on his return to Maine from New York, today confirmed reports that the Democratic senatorial campaign committee probably would demand a recount of the senatorial vote cast in last Monday's State election. On unofficial returns Senator Wallace J. White Jr., Republican, was elected by a majority of 5031.

Brann said the Democratic committee "has evidence of what it believes to be violations of the Federal election laws in Monday's election." He said he was not free to disclose the nature of the evidence.

Brann declared his opinion that "in view of the unfair practices and methods used by the opposition, or the interests aligned with them in the recent campaign, the margin is close enough to warrant an investigation. When elections are close, the ballots are always re-examined. At the time of my first victory four years ago there was a recount of the ballots."

SHIP CREW BARRED IN BRAZIL

Officials Say Men on French Ship Are Communists.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, 17.—The Coast Guard Bureau today refused to permit the officers and crew of the French steamer Belle Isle, arriving here this morning from Europe, to land. "Reports reaching us say they are communists," said officials.

Chargé Reunis, owner of the vessel, denied the charge. The 151 passengers were landed under police surveillance.

PHOENIX MINISTERS OFFER AID TO MIGRANT FARM HANDS

Seek to Mediate Differences With Employers to Obtain Better Working Conditions.

By the Associated Press.
PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 17.—Ministers of Phoenix offered themselves as mediators today between migrant farm laborers in Maricopa County and their employers.

A committee of the Phoenix Ministerial Association said it would "consider any social, political, labor or exploitation problems arising among migrant farm workers."

Leaders explained the association was determined to correct some conditions and proposed to represent laborers in obtaining better working conditions and improved health facilities.

FRANCE PREPARED TO DEFEND SOIL, PREMIER ASSERTS

Blum Says Parties and Doctrines Are Clashing but All Would Unite to Aid Their Country.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 17.—Premier Leon Blum, said in a radio address tonight that France, although divided by conflicting doctrines and parties, would in the face of necessity unite to "defend her soil."

The Socialist Premier, in a speech broadcast in English, German, Italian and Spanish from stations near the countries which speak those tongues, declared:

"There are in France doctrines and parties which clash. France sees that as a principle of force, not weakness."

"But as France is unanimous in her wish for peace, she will be unanimous tomorrow, as in all the hours of her history, if it is a question of preserving the security of the fatherland—even more so, to defend her own soil."

Considered as Reply to Hitler. Informed sources considered the address as a reply to the militant anti-Bolshevik and anti-Jewish speeches at Nurnberg by Adolf Hitler and other German Nazi leaders last week.

Most of the discourse was devoted to praise of the democratic form of government, in discussing which Blum praised the United States as an example.

"Is it not thanks to democracy that the United States has been able to push through in a few years a prodigious economic renaissance without compromising the legal order a single instant and without departing from the framework of the Constitution drawn up after the war of independence by American disciples of Montesquieu and Rousseau?" he asked.

France to Hold to Russian Pact. Replying to German hopes France would give up its mutual military alliance with Russia, Blum declared his Government would keep faith with all its engagements, contracts and pacts.

The French Government "manifests its determination to maintain the peace."

ON THE RECORD

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

During the Campaign

At this date, it looks as though President Roosevelt will be re-elected. I do not believe that the country is enthusiastic for all the reason the major part of what the country has done. Nor is there any important cult of Roosevelt. The Presidents have been more recently hated by their enemies. Few have been more criticized by their supporters. There is no large group around the President to give him the kind of intense personal loyalty and devotion which Mr. Hoover enjoyed from his nearest associates.

But it looks as though he will be re-elected. And I do not think that it will be a purchased vote, purchased by the bounties of the Federal Government. The large number of people dependent for their lives upon the Federal Government will, of course, play a role. But it will be their vote alone that will swing this election.

Nor will it be the fact that the country is recovering, that business is on the upswing. No one believes that this process would be retarded by the election of Mr. Landon. On the contrary, most people would agree, I think, that were Mr. Landon elected, there would immediately be a tremendous boom.

Nowhere in this campaign thus far have the issues become clear. A comparison of the platforms of the two major contending parties reveals no profound cleavages. What are the issues? There are no clearly defined programs, not two organically defined philosophies. What are the issues? There are no clearly defined programs, not two organically defined philosophies. What are the issues? There are no clearly defined programs, not two organically defined philosophies.

I believe that the people of this country, the majority of them, and by no means the least patriotic and the least intelligent, want government to take direction, want leadership, want action. I believe that the whole course of history is in this direction and that it is inevitable that the sun will rise tomorrow. And if Mr. Roosevelt wins, it will be for this reason.

He will not win for his achievements, not for his personality, not for his radio voice, not for his showmanship, but because he has shown himself more loyal to the temper and the yearnings of the world as it is today.

If one tries with the most honest, objective and even anxious thought to analyze the impression that Mr. Landon is creating, it is the impression of timidity, of apprehension of the future, of taking cover under old formulas and old procedures. It is the impression of fear of all sides. Fascism, Nazism, socialism, mass discontent, Communism and war.

Mr. Roosevelt creates the impression of affirmation, of movement, of recognition and of feeling that this nation is strong enough and powerful enough, some way, somehow, to approach the future head-on, and to work out new patterns of life which conform to the realities of the time in which we live.

These realities cannot be silenced or pooh-poohed out of existence, nor can they be dismissed by the mere fact that we do not like them. The fact is that the incontrovertible fact of our times is that over vast areas of territory and over vast bodies of men, who are much like ourselves, with whom only yesterday we spoke a common speech, dictatorial rule, and only rule, but inside their own premises are successful, are entrenched and have already set new forms of life for generations to come.

The predictions that Russia would collapse in five months or five years, that the masses would rise against Hitler, or revolt against Mussolini, have not been fulfilled. In spite of the grotesque myths which surround these systems, forms of communal organization have been worked out under them which will not be repudiated, and which definitely challenge the democratic form.

Democracy in the terms of yesterday is definitely on the defensive. Side by side with the grotesque myths are other ideas, not so easily laughed off; are other claims, not so easily dismissed. The ideas of order, unity, social discipline, purposefulness and of the integrated community; the claims to have produced an organized social order and to have produced it under the most adverse conditions.

We have got to face this challenge, sooner or later, and better sooner. We cannot depend upon catch phrases such as "regimentation," "tree enterprise," "democracy." The fact is that these words are without the breath of life today. We no longer know precisely what they mean. We are forced to analyze what in these challenging movements we really despise, and whether in them is something else for which men long.

The myths which govern dictatorships are tools with which a piece of work was undertaken. One myth is Communism. The other myth is Fascism. The American people reject both myths with hatred. This country will never accept the Communist theory of the divine right of the proletariat to dictate. It will never accept the deification of a leader, or prophet, or Christ. Nor will it accept the deification of a leader, or the deification of race, or the goal of racial hegemony, or the so-called Heroic Principle, which is nothing but the glorification of war and death.

But it seems to me that the question before the democracies is this: Must we accept the idea that these myths, so destructive of freedom and culture, so totally unacceptable to the civilized mind, are the inevitable and necessary accompaniment of Order and Direction? Is social chaos the necessary price which we pay for freedom?

In the labor strike which can paralyze an industry or a town, is the unofficial fixing of prices by big industries, is the right of the employer to hire and fire at his own free will, are the extremes of wealth and poverty, is the prodigious human waste—are all these the inevitable price of civil liberty and personal independence?

If they are, then we may expect to see society split in the immediate future into warring groups, of those who stand for freedom even with social anarchy, and those who stand for order, order under almost any myth and at almost any price.

I believe, however, that the American people want both. They want order, co-operation, organization and liberty. They are aware and they are aware. There is no good in telling us that this is the world's best civilization, with the highest standard of living in the world. For at least one-fifth of the population, the statement is definitely untrue. And for none of us is this civilization good enough.

We look about us and we do not like what we see. We do not like the easy optimism of the well-to-do, nor the continual downward pull of the despairing mass at the bottom. We do not like the standards of this society, which are often tardy and often childish. And we question whether all social planning is incompatible with democracy. Looking about us upon the world, reading this week the accounts of the Nurnberg rally, we have a premonition that if it is, democracy is doomed. The confused mysticism that somehow democracy, because it is democracy, will muddle through and emerge with brilliance is no longer convincing.

Our quarrel with Mr. Roosevelt is not against the principle of all social planning. It is that with much planning, there has been no plan. Mr. Roosevelt is holding his hand, not because people like his numerous and often conflicting programs, but because he continually affirms that there must be a program, there must be a direction, and because it is democracy, will muddle through and emerge with brilliance is no longer convincing.

LIST OF SPEAKERS GIVEN FOR LIBERAL FORUM SERIES

Benjamin Stolberg to Give First Lecture on "American Labor in Transition."

Benjamin Stolberg, journalist and author, will open the Liberal Forum series of lectures Oct. 25, with an address on "American Labor in Transition," at the Y. M. H. A., Union boulevard and Enright avenue, St. Louis. He is the author of "The Economic Consequences of the New Deal."

Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota will speak two weeks later before the Forum on "The Munitions Racket and National Defense." He was scheduled to give the lecture last year, but postponed his engagement because of illness.

Other speakers to appear in the series are: John Langdon-Davis, English author; Dr. Fritz Wittels, psychiatrist, psychoanalyst and author of a biography of Sigmund Freud; James Weldon Johnson, poet and teacher, and George Sokolsky, lecturer and columnist.

HARVARD THROGGED FOR ALUMNI DAY

President Conant Reads Letters Sealed in 1836; Prepares Packet for 2036.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 17.—Ten thousand persons thronged Harvard today for alumni day, second in the three-day observance of the university's tercentenary.

A morning service of "thanksgiving and remembrance" in the University Memorial Church was attended by the faculty, members of the governing board, tercentenary delegates and students.

Trumpets then summoned the graduates and their guests to the tercentenary meeting in an open air theater in the yard.

President Conant opened a century-old package of letters from 436 alumni long since dead. Sealed about the time of the bicentennial celebration in 1836, they were left by the then president, Josiah Quincy, to be opened by the president of Harvard in 1936.

Mostly messages of acceptance to the university's two hundredth celebration, Conant read from them today to the graduates, students and visiting scholars.

One letter from a "Gentleman in Philadelphia," Dr. Conant disclosed, read: "Excuse me from this frank expression of my feelings. I owe nothing to the president, professors or tutors of Harvard College in office from A. D. 1810 to A. D. 1814."

Most of them, however, were in different vein and Dr. Conant announced Harvard's official historian would publish a complete report on the contents of the package.

As he finished with 1836, Dr. Conant prepared for 2036 by sealing in a package to be opened then, letters from Harvard officers today, addressed to their successors. Class reunions, luncheons and dinners were on the schedule for the rest of the day.

Amid medieval pageantry the university yesterday received the homage of 600 representatives of learned societies and educational institutions from every continent.

President Conant extended greetings to the delegates in the academic Sanders Theater.

"In this troubled century," he said, "the burden is to be borne not by one individual or by one group but by those who live in many lands. . . . The spirit of man must be held aloft by sturdy hands of every race. All who love learning and believe in the power of education may by united efforts further the ideal of peace and understanding."

Prof. Elie Cartan of the University of Paris conducted the homage of fraternal sympathy to Harvard from the heir of the old Sorbonne which, in the middle ages, sheltered the sons of so many nations brought together by their zeal for knowledge.

The Associated Harvard Clubs today elected Mackey Wells of Milwaukee, class of 1908, as president.

MRS. MAGDALENE KEYL DIES AT STATEN ISLAND HOME

Daughter of Founder of Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri; 94 Years Old.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Magdalene Key, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Karl F. W. Walther, founder of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Missouri and president of Concordia Seminary from 1849 until his death in 1887, died yesterday at her Staten Island home at the age of 94.

Mrs. Key, who was the widow of the Rev. Stephanus Key, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Philadelphia, and later head of Pilgrim Home for Immigrants here, was born in St. Louis in 1842 and lived there until her marriage in 1863.

Actively aiding her husband in his missionary work among the immigrants she became one of the pioneer women social service workers in the Lutheran Church. Her husband died 20 years ago.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Clara Louise Moll, of Port Wayne, Ind., and a son, the Rev. Theodore S. Key, of Newark, N. J.

HENRY W. KIEL AGAIN HEADS MUNICIPAL THEATER

Re-elected by Directors for His Sixteenth Term; Other Officers Chosen.

Henry W. Kiel was re-elected president of the Municipal Theater Association for his sixteenth term by the directors at a meeting yesterday at Hotel Jefferson. He has been president every year but one since the association's inception in 1920.

Joseph M. Darst was elected first vice-president; A. B. Elias, second vice-president; John B. Strauch, third vice-president, and Mona B. Crutcher, secretary.

F. W. A. Vesper was selected to serve as financial director of the theater. Other divisional officers elected were: Cast, Arthur Siegel; stage and settings, Nelson Cuniff; costumes, Charles M. Talbert; administration and finance, M. E. Holder; concessions, Otto E. Ruger; auditorium, Joseph J. Mestres; publicity, Parker H. Woods, and welfare, Paul J. Wieland.

WESLEY HOUSE ANNUAL DINNER

Fifty Representatives of Civic Groups Attend.

Fifty men and women representatives of civic, educational and recreational groups, attended the annual dinner yesterday evening of the Wesley House board members and volunteer leaders at Wesley House headquarters, Cardinal and Bell avenues.

L. C. Gardner, director of the community center, described the development of Wesley House clubs and athletic leagues for boys and girls. Starting in 1920 with 12 boys in four athletic teams, the organization has grown until now there are 134 teams, with an enrollment of 1243 boys and girls.

DR. WILLIAM S. BOVARD DIES

One of Brothers Who Founded University of Southern California.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—Dr. William S. Bovard, 72 years old, one of the six Bovard brothers who founded the University of Southern California, died last night at his Sierra Madre home.

Dr. Bovard, until retirement in 1935, was general secretary of the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal Church. This year he was promotional secretary. As general secretary for 12 years, he was in charge of 157 Methodist institutions and 35,000 Sunday Schools. Earlier he served as president of Moore Hill College in Indiana. His widow, a daughter, Alice May Bovard, of New York City, and two sons, Dr. Gilbert Bovard, of Long Beach, Cal., and Burton C. Bovard, Washington (D. C.) attorney, survive.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MRS. WILLIAM HALL WALKER of Santa Barbara, Cal., has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Gladys Emory Turner, and James Keeney Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Emory Walker, also of Santa Barbara.

Miss Turner and her mother have visited here frequently. The bride-to-be was presented to St. Louis society season before last during which she and Mrs. Walker were the Park Plaza. Last season they were the guests of Mrs. David D. Walker Jr., whose husband was a brother of the late William Hall Walker.

Miss Gladys, a member of the Santa Barbara Junior League, is a graduate of the Santa Barbara School for Girls, and attended the Warrenton Country School in Virginia. Her father was the late Maj. Emory Stratton Turner of New York.

The prospective bridegroom is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Walker and Dr. James Ward Keeney of New York. He is a nephew of Mrs. George Bolling Lee of New York and Newport.

Wedding arrangements have not been announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kenneth Wilkinson of Bogota, Colombia, and their young son, Walter Duke Wilkinson, have arrived for a month's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Duke Thompson, 5045 Lindell boulevard. It is the first visit of Mrs. Wilkinson, the former Miss Mabel Green Thompson, in St. Louis for seven years. They will remain until after the Velled Prophet ball, and will be entertained informally.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson have been in New York since their arrival in the country and will visit his family in New Mexico before returning to Bogota.

Miss Marie Taylor Spink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Taylor, 631 East Polo drive, will go to Louisville in a day or two for the wedding of Miss Nancy Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Wales Lewis, and Jefferson Davis Stewart Jr., to take place Saturday in Calvary Church.

Miss Spink and the bride have exchanged visits frequently since attending the Bennett School, Millbrook, N. Y., where they were roommates, and Miss Lewis was here for several of Miss Spink's parties last season.

Mrs. George Hayward Niedringhaus of the St. Louis Country Club grounds and Mrs. Samuel Cupples Scudder and her son, Clifford R. Scudder III of Warsaw road, left Sunday for New York to spend two weeks at the Ambassador Hotel. Mrs. Niedringhaus and Mrs. Scudder will return to St. Louis but Clifford Scudder will stay in the East to enter Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass.

Among the passengers aboard the Britannic which landed at New York Sunday were Mrs. John McH. Dean and her daughter, Miss Mary Jane, 6401 Ellenwood avenue. They spent two and a half months traveling in England, Scotland, Switzerland and France.

Mrs. Dean and her daughter will return home the last of the week.

Mrs. Dean was graduated from the Villa Duchesne in June and she will attend Manhattan College of the Sacred Heart at New York this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Danforth, 17 Kingsbury place, are expected home today from Yellowstone Park, where they have been visiting, following an early summer stay at the Youth Foundation Camp sponsored by Mr. Danforth, in Shelby, Mich.

After an absence of several weeks in Kentucky and Tennessee, Mr. and Mrs. T. Frank James, 6425 Wydown boulevard, returned Tuesday night. Recently they have been the guests of her sister, Mrs. Charles Hillman of Nashville.

A few days ago their daughter, Miss Peggy James, with Miss Lila Marshall Childress and Miss Ruth Deibel, returned from Denver. They went West with Miss Childress' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Wade Childress, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fielding Childress, to be on a ranch, and after the Childresses' return, attended a house party given by the Virginian Symes, and the Ravenscroft-Mitchell wedding last week.

Morgan T. McCormick, 5607 Cabanne avenue, will leave by motor late this week for Douglas, Mich., to accompany home Mrs. McCormick and their two children, Betty and Dink. Mrs. McCormick and her children have been in Douglas since June.

Mrs. George W. Hellmuth, 4468 Maryland avenue, and her sons, Joseph and Theodore, will motor home the end of this week from Douglas, Mich., where they have been at their cottage for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. G. Meyer, 7330 Maryland avenue, are expected to return home today from Torch Lake, Wis., where they have a summer cottage. Their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. G. Meyer III of the Mosley road, visited them last month at the Wisconsin resort.

Mrs. Edwin A. Kayser of Denny and Ladue roads, her mother, Mrs. Jennie A. Bohen, and Mrs. Kayser's son, Edwin Elliott, returned recently from an extended tour of the West.

Mrs. A. M. Hill, 5540 Clemens avenue, is entertaining as her house guest, Mrs. Edward Brodnax Lewis of La Crosse, Va. She arrived Saturday and will be here for a week. Several informal parties are being arranged in her honor.

Dr. W. F. McConkey, 5143 Maple avenue, has returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast. While in the West, he took a post-graduate course at the Cooper Medical College of San Francisco, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker H. Woods of Bellevue Acres, who have been on a fishing trip at Big Fork, Minn., are motoring to St. Louis. They visited in Quebec, Boston, Salem, N. Y., and will stop in Philadelphia before returning to St. Louis this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Cook, 3228 Westminster place, have left their summer home at Biddeford, Me., and are in New York for a few days. They are expected home shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. David R. Calhoun of Warsaw road are in New York for a short visit after spending two weeks at Atlantic City, N. J. They are expected home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Atwood, 100 South Clay street, Ferguson, are spending a late summer vacation at Denver, Colo. They expect to return home in about two weeks.

Eugene Buder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Buder, left Sunday for Harvard for his junior year of college work. Mr. and Mrs. Buder, their son, and two daughters, Miss Susan and Miss Antonio, returned recently from a summer abroad. Mr. Buder was a student at Cambridge University during the summer.

Mrs. Burton Pierce, president of the Women's Missouri Golf Association, which is holding its annual tournament this week at Algonquin Country Club, and the 25 women attending from Kansas City were hostesses at a dinner last night on the Chase Hotel roof garden for the association officers. The officers, in addition to Mrs. Pierce, are: Mrs. Harold T. Atton, St. Louis, vice-president; Mrs. Luther Reid, St. Joseph, Mo., second vice-president; Miss Anna Sue Kennedy, Columbia, Mo., third vice-president; Mrs. George Donnovan, Kansas City, Mo., secretary; and Mrs. C. R. McCubbin, Kansas City, treasurer.

BUTEREG BREAD

By the Associated Press.
RIVERHEAD, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Contending that some broadcasting stations had attempted to exercise censorship of President Roosevelt, Commissioner George Henry Payne of the Communications Commission said in a speech yesterday that the action was an "arrogant abuse of power."

right to broadcasting companies which he said used public facilities. Payne did not mention any stations by name, but referred to "the recent instance where the President of the United States was edited off the air in Los Angeles." Several West coast stations recently announced they would not carry so-called fireside talks by the President free because they were political.

"This arrogant abuse of power arises, of course," Payne said, "from a misunderstanding, not uncommon among commercial broadcasters, as to their rights and their relationship to the public."

"Some of them have even gone so far to describe themselves as the 'fifth estate' in Government, ignorant alike of the historic and political implications of this expression. In the recent instance where the President of the United States was edited off the air in Los Angeles, the idea back of it was doubtless, it is believed, that if a newspaper can leave the President's speech out of the paper, the owner of a broadcasting station has the right to refuse to send the speech over the air."

"There is no similarity in the two cases. If a Republican editor should decide that he will not print a Democratic President's speech, that is his right and privilege, no matter what he may think of his news judgment or journalistic ethics or lack of them. He has the right because the newspaper is his own investment."

"But the owner of a broadcasting station owns nothing but the machinery and the material that go into his station. The frequency over which he broadcasts and the ether through which it comes to the public no more belong to him than they belong to you and me. In fact, they belong more to you and me than to him because we are several hundreds and he is only one. As a matter of fact they belong to all the people and the people have the right to protest against a man setting himself up as a censor or dictator."

Ross Alexander, Movie Actor, Weds. By the Associated Press.
YUMA, Ariz., Sept. 17.—Ross Alexander, 29 years old, movie actor, and Miss Anne Dolan, 21, were married here last night.

IN SEATTLE, ASSERTS ISSUE IS GRAVE CRISIS
Seattle, Sept. 17.—Col.
Knox, Republican vice-presdential nominee, turned to Oregon today after telling Washington voters the coming State election dominated by labor issues, was a "grave crisis."

Knox urged the election of Roland
H. Hartley, Republican nominee for Governor, who has campaigned on promises to "clean up Seattle."

Hartley is opposing the Democratic Governor, Clarence D. Martin, charging Martin failed to act during such labor difficulties as the newsroom strike at the suspended Post-Intelligencer.
At Seattle, Knox again referred to the city's labor issues, declaring Hartley, a lumberman, twice Governor of the State, deserved support "from every law abiding citizen who wants his commonwealth a place of peace and tranquility and not of anarchy."

"I number among my friends many union leaders," he said. "I believe in collective bargaining. But I do not believe in Government coercion in labor relations, either in favor of labor or in favor of employers."

PAIR HURT IN AUTO-TRUCK
CRASH; SUICIDE NOTE FOUND
Chicago Man Wrote Request That Bodies of Self and Fiancee Be Cremated.
By the Associated Press.
WAUKEGAN, Ill., Sept. 17.—A note and a truck driver's story were studied by Lake County authorities today in an effort to ascertain whether a young pair whose automobile collided with a truck were the victims of an accident or planned a double suicide.
Richard G. Novick, 24 years old, son of a Chicago dress manufacturer, and Lillian Layton, 19-year-old high school student, his fiancée, were in a serious condition at hospitals here.
Harold Pankratz, 30, Green Bay, Wis., the truck driver, told a deputy sheriff the Novick car veered into his lane and crashed into the truck at high speed yesterday. The deputy said a penciled note found in Novick's clothing said: "Life is not worth the struggle," and asked that "our bodies be cremated and our ashes mixed together."

JOLIET CHAPLAIN ASSAILS
PRISON EDUCATION SYSTEM
Father Weir Says It Produces Men
So Skilled in Crime They Baffle Police.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Modern prison education produces men so skilled in crime they baffle the police, Father Eligius Weir, Franciscan chaplain of the Illinois State penitentiary at Joliet, said in an address today before the American Prison Association. These "honor graduates" of the penal system were responsible, he said, for "the enormous amount of crimes that have never been solved."

Emphasizing that he was "certainly not in favor" of abolishing existing educational methods, Father Weir advocated instead that these methods be "supplemented by moral training."

HOME MADE GRAPE JUICE HAS APPEAL FOR MANY

Homemade grape juice has a decided appeal for a great many people. Grape juice is the foundation for many interesting drinks whose popularity does not wane with the waning of summer.

Grape Juice.
Pick over and wash 10 pounds Concord grapes. Put in kettle, add two quarts boiling water; simmer one hour. Bring to a boil; boil five minutes. Strain through a jelly bag. Add two pounds sugar, bring to a boil; boil two minutes; skim. Seal while hot. Makes three quarts.

Grape Shrub.
Three cups bottled grape juice. Four and one-half cups sugar. Measure grape juice and sugar into a large saucepan and mix. Boil rapidly 15 minutes. Pour into hot, sterilized jars and seal while hot. Makes two and one-half pints.

Mulled Grape Shrub.
Combine four cups grape shrub with one gallon water, three sticks cinnamon, one tablespoon allspice berries, one tablespoon whole cloves, two pieces whole mace, one-half teaspoon salt, dash cayenne. Boil 15 minutes. Strain. Serve hot.

Ginger-Grape Freeze.
Put two tablespoons grape shrub into a tall glass. Fill two-thirds full with chilled dry ginger ale. Stir gently. Top with lemon sherbet.

Sour Cream Pie.
Use a deep pie pan. Line it with pastry. Then pour into it the following filling and bake in a 425-degree oven for 10 minutes and a 325 to 350 degree oven for about 25 minutes, or until done. Test with a knife.

Nut Sour Milk Waffles.
Two cups sifted flour.
One and one-half teaspoons baking powder.
One-fourth teaspoon soda.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
One tablespoon sugar.
One-half cup chopped cashews.
Two egg yolks, well beaten.
One and one-half cups sour milk or buttermilk.
Four tablespoons melted butter or other shortening.
Two egg whites, stiffly beaten.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, salt and sugar and sift again. Add nuts and mix.
Combine egg yolks, milk and butter; add to flour mixture, beating until smooth. Fold in egg whites. Bake in hot waffle iron. Serve with butter and maple-flavored syrup. Makes four or five four-section waffles.

Lemon Custard Ice Cream.
One tablespoon flour.
One cup sugar.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One cup boiling water.
Two eggs.
Three cups irradiated evaporated milk.
One-half cup lemon juice.
Grated rind of two lemons.
Blend flour, sugar and salt in the top of a double boiler. Add boiling water. Bring to brisk boil, stirring frequently. Pour slowly over beaten eggs. Return to double boiler and cook over boiling water three minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from fire. Cool. Add milk, lemon juice and rind. Freeze with 1:8 salt-ice mixture. Yield: One and three-fourths quarts.

Ginger Puffs.
One and three-fourths cups flour.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon soda.
One teaspoon ginger.
One teaspoon cinnamon.
One teaspoon baking powder.
One-half cup sugar.
One egg.
One-half cup white syrup.
One-half cup sour milk.
One-fourth cup melted butter.
Mix and sift together all dry ingredients. Stir in unbeaten egg together with sour milk, syrup and melted butter. Stir with spoon on bottom of dish until it makes a soft dough. Bake in muffin pans in hot oven (400 degrees Fahrenheit) for 20 minutes.

Cream of Broccoli Soup.
One pound broccoli.
Five cups boiling water.
One and one-fourth teaspoons salt.
Two tablespoons butter.
Two tablespoons minced onion.
Three chicken bouillon cubes.
One and one-half cups hot irradiated evaporated milk.
Select tender green broccoli. Wash thoroughly in cold water. Split thick stems two or three times. Cook in boiling water in an open kettle until tender, about 20 minutes. Drain, save liquid. There should be two and one-half cups liquid. If not, add water. Chop broccoli, then press through a coarse sieve. There should be one and one-half cups pulp. Add liquid drained from broccoli, salt, pepper, butter and onion and bouillon cubes. Heat to boiling point, add milk and serve at once. Yield: Five cups. Brunswick Stew.

Onions Baked in Cream.
Cut Bermuda onions in thin slices; arrange in baking dish and season. Pour on cream to cover. Bake in a 400-degree F. oven until soft (about one hour).

Line spring form cake pan with two and a half to three dozen lady fingers. Place in double boiler the yolks of 12 eggs, juice of four lemons, rind of two lemons, one tablespoon cornstarch, sugar to taste and a pinch of salt. Cook until it thickens. Add the whites of four eggs after the tart cool. Pour filling over lady fingers and place in freezer overnight. The next day, whip whites of other eight eggs and cover custard with two tablespoons of sugar, sprinkled, and quickly in oven. Serves 12.

Raisin Pound Cake.

Make the raisin pound cake with one-half cups raisins, two cups granulated sugar, one teaspoon cinnamon, two cups mace, nine eggs separated, four and one-fourth cups sifted flour. Rinse raisins in hot water, drain and dry on a towel. Cream butter, add sugar and spices and cream thoroughly. Add egg yolks beaten very light and mix. Add half of flour and blend. Add raisins and remaining flour and blend thoroughly. Mix in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a well buttered loaf pan in a moderate oven (325 degrees Fahrenheit) two to two and one-quarter hours. Cool on a cake rack before frosting. To make the brown butter frosting for this cake melt six tablespoons butter until golden brown, then add one and one-half cups confectioners' sugar, and one teaspoon vanilla. Then stir in four tablespoons cream until right consistency to spread smooth on cake.

To Save Egg Yolk.

When you have used white of egg in a recipe and have no immediate use for the yolk cover with water. It can be kept for two or three days.

HASH NOT ONLY DISH FOR MEAT LEFTOVERS

Tempting Cold and Hot Combinations of All Kinds Possible.

Monday's hash used to follow Sunday's roast as surely as wash day followed Sunday's relaxation. That was because Sunday's roast always had its leftovers and the easiest leftover dish was hash. But leftovers need not indicate hash, even though hash on occasions does taste mighty good. Cold and hot combinations of all kinds are possible from the end of the roast, tempting hot pies, cold salads, cold meat cuts, casserole combinations and crispy croquettes. For easy service veal or ham a la king, or creamed lamb over toast or toasted rolls makes a delightful hot contribution to the Monday menu.

Needs Proper Care.
Be sure you've taken proper care of the roast after its first hot service. Drying takes place very rapidly when meat is cut and warm. It also dries very rapidly when left uncovered in very low temperature refrigeration. Take immediate steps to gather all the cut pieces and the drippings in a bowl or on a plate. Cover thoroughly but not tightly with a bowl or waxed paper. This loose covering allows a little air circulation but prevents drying. The left over fat and drippings are utilized in gravies or sauces, and should never be discarded. The bone, if any, makes excellent meat broth to be used for a foundation for vegetable soup, tomato bouillon or cream soups.

Use the small scrappy pieces of lean for sandwich fillings, in omelets or in croquettes, where the meat is ground before using. The larger lean pieces may be cut or sliced for reheating or use in salad.

Simple Rules.

In reheating meats which have been cooked once—remember these simple rules:

1. Cook as little as possible. Just reheat.

2. Protect the meat from toughening by protecting with layers of sauce or other food. Never fry slices of left over roast.

Slices of lamb, veal, beef or ham cut thin from a cold roast are perfectly delicious when reheated quickly in a barbecue sauce suited to the specific meats. Served with baked or creamed potatoes and a crisp vegetable salad, this makes a most appetizing meal.

Little meat pies of mixed meat and vegetables baked in individual casserole baking dishes with biscuit or pie crust top are not only good—but good looking as well.

Curries are infrequently used because too few people are acquainted with this delicious seasoning. Cut beef or veal mixed into a curry sauce and served over flaky boiled rice is a new one to try on your family. Your only investment will be a small bit of curry powder—an inexpensive spice.

Lamb Curry.

Two cups cold cubed lamb.

One-fourth cup lamb fat or drippings.

One-fourth cup flour.

Two cups water.

Salt and pepper to taste.

One-half tablespoon curry powder.

Boiled rice.

Melt meat drippings, add flour and let brown slightly. Stir in water, let thicken and season with salt, pepper and curry powder. Add lamb and let heat. Serve over hot boiled rice.

Beef in Barbecue Sauce.

Sauce:

One-half teaspoon white pepper.

Four teaspoons sugar.

Two teaspoons Worcestershire sauce.

One-half cup catsup.

One-half onion sliced.

One teaspoon mustard.

One teaspoon celery salt.

One teaspoon paprika.

Four tablespoons vinegar.

One tablespoon butter.

Three-fourths cup water.

One teaspoon tabasco sauce.

Melt butter, add chopped onion and let cook until onions are clear.

Add dry seasonings, then add vinegar, catsup, water, tabasco and Worcestershire sauce. Bring to a boil. Slice beef in even slices and heat quickly in the sauce. Serve with baked potatoes.

Green in Beef Cups.

Cook beans of uniform size in boiling salted water until tender.

Drop into cold water and slip off the skins. Form cups by removing the centers of the beans. Brush the inside of the cups with melted butter and salt and place over hot water to keep hot.

To one pint of hot cooked greens, drained and chopped, add two hard cooked eggs, cut in small pieces, two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon vinegar, and salt and pepper to taste. Mix well and fill beef cups heaping full of this mixture. Finely chop the centers removed from the beans, and sprinkle them over the top of the greens.

Lim. Bean Salad.

Cooked lima beans.

French dressing.

Crisp lettuce.

Marinate cooled cooked lima beans in French dressing at least 30 minutes.

Serve in lettuce nests, accompanied by cold sliced ham, tongue or corned beef, canned or cooked.

Shrimp Cocktail.

One pound cooked shrimps, one-half teaspoon salt, three tablespoons lemon juice. Carefully clean shrimps. Add rest of ingredients. Chill. Arrange portions in glass cups lined with crisp lettuce. Top with sauce.

Cocktail Sauce—One-half cup catsup, one-fourth cup chili sauce, two tablespoons grated horseradish, two tablespoons lemon juice, one-fourth cup finely chopped celery, one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon paprika. Mix ingredients with fork. Chill.

Breakfast cereals have no better use than to give flavor to meringues. They are much lighter and have less food value than nuts and add a texture which is enjoyable. The cereal should be fresh and crisp when it is added.

One-half cup of flakes or grains is the amount to add to a two-egg recipe for meringues. They are added after the sugar is dissolved in the mixture. The baking is not changed.

Salads Made Tempting By a Fitting Dressing

Three Types Are a Combination of Fat and Dilute Acid With Seasoning and May Be Used on Any Salad.

The crisp green leaves, the colorful tomato and pale cucumber slices that make a typical midsummer salad are tempting by themselves, but more so with an appropriate salad dressing. And with this particular dressing, any one of several dressings is appropriate. Shall it be French, a mayonnaise, or a cooked dressing? Or one of the many variations of these?

Of the three types of salad dressings, says the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, French and mayonnaise are essentially combinations of fat and dilute acid, with seasonings. In other words, despite the saying that oil and water will not mix, every cook knows they will and the uncooked salad dressings are a proof. The fat in these dressings is usually vegetable oil of some kind. The acid is vinegar or lemon juice, both largely water. Beaten together, the oil and the water thicken and form an emulsion—which, is to say, the tiny globules of fat are dispersed all through the water and held there in "suspension," to use the chemical term.

The cooked salad dressings come in another class. They are thickened with eggs, or with eggs and flour or cornstarch, and are more nearly related to custard and white sauce than to the uncooked dressings.

Uncooked Dressings.

French dressing, which contains just oil, acid, salt and pepper or paprika, separates after standing a few minutes, and must be stirred or shaken thoroughly before using again. It is a temporary emulsion of oil in water, says the chemist. But it is more stable than just oil in ordinary water because the dissolved acid makes it easier to form the oil globules, and the dry seasonings, which do not dissolve, help to hold the globules apart.

To make French dressing is, of course, very easy. The proportions of oil vary with taste and also with the acidity of the vinegar or lemon juice. Four parts of oil to one of vinegar is a good proportion, but three to one, or even two to one are used. Seasonings may be salt, paprika, onion juice, tobacco, sugar, horseradish, or many others. Beat the ingredients together in a bowl or shake them in a bottle until they mix thoroughly and thicken somewhat.

French dressing is varied by almost countless seasonings, but one of the favorites is Roquefort cheese crumbled into the mixture of oil and acid. Chiffonade dressing calls for chopped parsley, chopped onions, chopped hard-cooked egg, chopped cooked beets, in French dressing. Anchovy dressing is French dressing seasoned with anchovies chopped fine.

Origin of Mayonnaise.

Mayonnaise dressing, according to one story, originated centuries ago in the French city of Bayonne, famous for salad oils, and the dressing was called "Mayonnaise." Another version says it was originally made with cream instead of oil, and in its present most familiar form was invented by the chef to the Duke of Mayenne, on a festive occasion when the cream turned sour. So the new dressing was called "mayonnaise." Whatever the origin, this dressing as we know it is made with eggs in addition to the ingredients of French dressing, and if kept cool, does not separate after it is well beaten. The chemist calls this a permanent emulsion, because the egg forms a film around the oil globules and keeps them apart.

Mayonnaise is more difficult to make than French dressing, but here is a good way to do it: Mix the egg, seasonings, and part of the acid thoroughly by beating, and then add the oil drop by drop at first, until the mixture begins to thicken, then gradually more. When the dressing becomes quite thick, add the rest of the acid, then the oil. Have the oil at room temperature when beating, but put the dressing away in a cold place. Not in the coldest part of the refrigerator, however, or it will separate.

As to proportions for mayonnaise, they are not given very definitely because the amount of oil which an egg will take depends upon the size of the egg. Usually an egg yolk will take three-fourths to one cup of oil. About two tablespoons of vinegar or lemon juice is usually enough with one egg.

Of mayonnaise variations, the most familiar is Thousand Island dressing, for which add to the mayonnaise a variety of such seasonings as chili sauce, chopped green pepper, pimiento, and chopped stuffed olives. Russian dressing is made by adding about one part chili sauce to two of mayonnaise. Tartar sauce is mayonnaise seasoned with tarragon, sour gherkins, capers, chopped parsley, chopped olives, or other pickles.

A cream dressing for fruit salads is made by folding whipped cream into mayonnaise. Other cream dressings, like mayonnaise, are permanent emulsions. Thick sour cream, which with salt, pepper, or other seasonings, is a delicious dressing for raw salads especially, contains both fat and acid, already mixed. Sweet cream dressing is made by adding lemon juice and seasonings to thick cream.

Cooked Dressings.

The cooked dressings are usually made with butter or margarine rather than oil, and the proportions are about one to three tablespoons of fat to one cup of milk or water, with enough vinegar to give the desired tartness. The thickening may be eggs (two whole eggs or four yolks), or half as many eggs with flour or cornstarch for thickening. With milk as the liquid and eggs for thickening, combine the ingredients (except vinegar) as for any true custard, and cook slowly because of the eggs. Add the vinegar last, to prevent curdling.

For a rich and highly seasoned cooked salad dressing, suitable for meat or vegetable salads, here is an interesting dressing:

Two whole eggs, or four egg yolks.
One-fourth cup vinegar.
One tablespoon butter.
Five tablespoons cream cheese.
Two tablespoons cream.
One-half teaspoon sugar.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One-fourth teaspoon mustard.
One-eighth teaspoon paprika.
One-eighth teaspoon celery seed.
Three drops tabasco sauce.

Beat the eggs and vinegar together until smooth. Cook the mixture in a double boiler, and stir constantly until the consistency is that of thick cream. Remove at once from the heat, add the butter and cream cheese, and stir until the mixture is smooth. Then add the cream and the seasonings. The cream cheese may be omitted, and more cream, either sweet or sour, used in its place. These ingredients will make about one cup of dressing.

Raisin Ice Box Cake.

Boil three-fourths cup seedless raisins for five minutes in sufficient water to cover and drain. Combine with one and a half cups orange juice (unstrained), one teaspoon grated orange rind, two tablespoons butter, one-fourth teaspoon salt, three-fourths cup granulated sugar; bring to a boil and cook until sugar and butter are melted. Remove from fire and add four teaspoons granulated gelatin that has been moistened in two tablespoons cold water. Place in ice box or cool place until firm. Whip one cup cream and fold into raisin mixture. Line a mold or pan (about 9 by 5 by 2 1/2 inches) with very thin slices of sponge cake. Pour in one-half the raisin-cream mixture and cover with very thin slices of sponge cake; add remainder of raisin-cream mixture and cover with very thin slices of sponge cake; add remainder of raisin-cream mixture and cover with cake. Place in ice box until firm. Unmold and cover top and sides with chocolate butter and gar frosting, garnished with whipped cream.

EMERALD SALAD

One cup milk.
One cup canned pea soup.
One tablespoon minced onions.
One cup flaked salmon.
One package lime gelatin.
Mayonnaise.
Catsup.

Mix milk with pea soup until smooth. Add flaked salmon and minced onion. Dissolve gelatin in warm or hot water, according to directions on package. Add other ingredients. Then pour into mold and set to harden. To serve, cut into two-inch cubes and place on crisp lettuce leaves. Add mayonnaise. Blend well with catsup. Yield: 5 servings.

Filling.

Three eggs beaten till light. Add three-quarters cup of sugar, mixed with one and one-half tablespoons flour, and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Beat, then add one table-spoon lemon juice, three-quarters cup currants or chopped raisins and one and one-half cups thick, sour cream. Blend, then add three-quarters teaspoon vanilla. For a more shallow pie, reduce filling one-third.

Uniform quality

There's a big difference between brands of corn flakes. But the quality of Kellogg's never varies. Wherever you buy them, Kellogg's Corn Flakes have the same oven-fresh crispness—the same matchless flavor. When you order Kellogg's, by name, you're sure of uniform goodness.

CHICKEN MAY PROVIDE SEVERAL MEALS

Boiled and the Meat Used
With Extenders Many Dishes Are Possible.

Modern living has brought with it a need for certain kinds of food on hand to meet the variety of emergencies occurring daily. To be sure, the grocer's shelves are filled with products in every style of container to assist the homemaker. Yet home-cooked food continues to be popular and the homemaker who must watch costs plans that her larder can produce enough food to be converted into a hurry-up company meal, hot or cold, to suit the vicissitudes of the weather and an uncertain number of guests.

A three or four-pound hen properly cooked in water to cover which is at all times kept at the simmering temperature will furnish chicken meat for two or three meals if some extenders are used. A carrot, a sprig of parsley, a few celery tops, a slice of onion or a few fresh onion tops, one clove, two or three peppercorns added to the water in addition to the usual salt will flavor the meat delicately to say nothing of a delicious broth.

May Be Left Whole.

The chicken may be cut up as for frying or left whole. Leaving it whole is a common practice among hotels and restaurants who perhaps find it economical of time. The feet if scalded so that the outer layer of skin may be peeled off can be added to the kettle to add body and flavor to the stock. The meat will cook to tenderness in from one and one-half to two and one-half hours depending upon the size and age. It should be allowed to cool in the stock, and it is best kept in the refrigerator that way until needed. Delicious chicken meat will be ready for sandwiches, the cold meat platter, salads, creamed chicken and biscuit, chicken and waffles, chicken a la king, etc.

For those who like at least one hot food in a meal despite torrid temperatures, chicken and noodle soup is an easy, satisfying way to use a part of the chicken meat: Chicken-Noodle Soup.

One six-ounce package of noodles. One and one-half cups chicken, diced.

Two cups medium white sauce. One-eighth teaspoon pepper. One-half cup buttered crumbs. Chicken stock may be used instead of milk.

Boil the noodles until tender in 3 or 4 quarts of rapidly boiling water to which one tablespoon salt has been added. Drain. In a well-greased baking dish place alternate layers of noodles, chicken and sauce. Cover with buttered crumbs. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) for about 20 minutes. Baking should be long enough to heat the contents thoroughly which can be judged for doneness when sauce starts to bubble through the layer of browned crumbs at the top. If the dish is prepared in advance of the final baking, more time should be allowed to heat through. From one-half to one cup of cooked vegetables may be added, if desired.

Chicken loaf prepared in advance will make a perfect cold meat for any kind of summer meal. Either of the chicken dishes fit perfectly into a menu for the buffet type of meal.

Chicken Loaf.
Two tablespoons butter.
Two tablespoons flour.
One and one-half cups milk.
Two egg yolks.
One tablespoon gelatin, dissolved in two tablespoons cold water.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.
One-half teaspoon dry mustard.
Two teaspoons Worcestershire sauce.
One teaspoon paprika.
Pepper.

Melt butter, add flour and blend well. Add milk to slightly beaten egg yolks and add to flour slowly, stirring constantly. Place over hot water and cook 25 minutes, without stirring. Remove, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add all seasonings, blend well and add chopped or ground chicken. Fold in mayonnaise and stiffly beaten egg whites last. Rinse bread pan with cold water. Pour in chicken mixture and chill at least four hours before serving. Makes one loaf 3½ by 8 inches. Green pepper rings or thinly sliced sweet pickles may be arranged in the bottom before the chicken mixtures is poured into the pan.

MEAT PIES ARE HEARTIER FOODS FOR COOL WEATHER

The season for heartier dishes will soon be at hand and the wise housewife arms herself against such a time with a few recipes. Meat pies, whether they are individual or family affairs, are an excellent idea.

English Pastry.
Six tablespoons shortening.

One-fourth cup water
Two cups flour
One-fourth teaspoon salt
Boil shortening and water two minutes. Add to sifted flour and salt; stir until cool enough to handle. Knead smooth, cover, set in warm place one-half hour. Knead again, roll one-fourth inch thick. Line one six-inch baking dish, or six individual ones, with pastry; moisten edge. Add one of fillings.

suggested. Make cut-out in top-pastry, place over pie, press edges firmly together.

Veal and Ham Pie.
Fill pie with three cups cooked ham and veal, two hard-cooked eggs, cubed. Sprinkle one-half tablespoon gelatin on one tablespoon cold water, add one cup hot bouillon. Pour one-half cup in pie. Cover with pastry. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) two hours. Pour in remaining bouillon. Serves six.

Liver Pies.
Cube one and a half pounds of cooked liver; fill six individual pies. Add one tablespoon gelatin to two tablespoons cold water; add one pint hot bouillon. Pour some in each pie. Finish as above.

Always heat a new range gradually. This will prevent the possibility of its cracking.

MANY DISHES MADE IN REFRIGERATOR

This Important Piece of Equipment Allows a Change of Approach.

There is still enough hot weather left to make the refrigerator the most prized possession in the kitchen. Hot weather does not and never has meant cutting down on food. It has meant curtailing certain heat-producing foods. Food that is rich in vitamins and minerals is still the prime factor for keeping one's health. It is simply the method of preparing the food that changes during the hot weather.

There are so many dishes that can be made with the help of a refrigerator. Icebox cookies may be kept on hand and baked when the occasion arises. Those delicious rolls that are so tasty with cool salads or molded dishes may be kept in the refrigerator and baked as needed. Icebox pies are the stand-bys of a great many housewives during the hot weather since they feel that a hearty dessert makes up for any deficiency in the rest of the menu.

Tomato Juice Freeze.
Two cups tomato juice
Two tablespoons sugar
One-fourth teaspoon salt
Two teaspoons lemon juice
One cup crushed pineapple
One-half cup tiny seedless grapes
Dissolve sugar and salt in tomato juice. Add remaining ingredients and pour into a freezing tray. Stir twice during freezing.

Refrigerator Rolls.
Two cups boiling water
One-half cup sugar
One tablespoon salt
Two eggs, beaten
Two tablespoons butter or shortening
Two cakes yeast
One-fourth cup lukewarm water
Eight cups flour

Mix boiling water, half cup of sugar, salt and shortening together and cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in lukewarm water, add one teaspoon sugar and stir into first mixture. Add beaten eggs and stir in four cups of flour and mix thoroughly but do not knead. Allow to rise until light. Then add flour until stiff enough to knead. Cover with a damp cloth and waxed paper and store in the refrigerator to have on hand. When ready to use, pinch off needed amount, form into shapes as desired and place in a warm place to rise to double bulk. This dough may be kept for a week or 10 days. Bake rolls in a hot oven (450 degrees) for 15 or 20 minutes.

Lemon Ice Cream.
One cup sugar
Three tablespoons cornstarch
One cup boiling water
One lemon, rind and juice
Two eggs
One tablespoon butter
One cup whipping cream
Combine cornstarch and sugar. Add boiling water slowly and cook over flame, stirring constantly until clear and thick. Pour hot mixture over slightly beaten egg yolks, add butter and cook over water until butter is melted and mixture is well blended. Cool. Fold in beaten egg whites, lemon rind and juice and whipped cream. Turn into a freezing tray and freeze until firm.

Refrigerator Pie.
Pie Shell.
Twenty-five or 30 graham crackers
One-half cup powdered sugar
One-third cup melted butter
Roll crackers very fine and combine with the sugar and butter and pack into a pie pan. Chill thoroughly and pour in the filling about one hour before the pie is to be served.

Filling.
Two egg whites
One-half cup sugar
One cup whipping cream
Four tablespoons powdered sugar
One quart of berries or fruit
Beat egg whites until almost dry, add sugar gradually and continue beating until consistency of marshmallows. Spread in pie shell. Have fruit ready, reserving some for top. Press into meringue mixture then top with whipped cream into which powdered sugar has been beaten. Decorate with whole berries or slices of fruit.

FROZEN SUMMER DESSERT OF DEPENDABLE EXCELLENCE

Here is a frozen summer dessert that can always be depended upon for excellence.

Orange Cream Sherbet.
Three-fourths cup granulated sugar
Three-fourths cup water
Grated rind of one orange.
Two egg whites.
One and a half cups orange juice.
One tablespoon lemon juice.
One-half cup coffee cream.
One-sixteenth teaspoon salt.
Cook sugar and water slowly for 10 minutes. Add grated rind to syrup and continue cooking for several minutes. Strain. Add syrup to fruit juices. Cool. Pour into freezing tray and allow to freeze firm. Remove mixture to chilled mixing bowl and beat until light. Add coffee cream and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites to which salt has been added. Pour into tray and freeze. If ingredients separate, stir mixture again with a spoon. Serves six to eight.

Fluted Cucumbers.
Cucumbers may be made to look attractive for serving if, after they are peeled, a fork is drawn from end to end, bearing down hard. Continue all the way around, then slice

START DAY RIGHT BY TUCKING AWAY A HEARTY BREAKFAST

As a fortification against the day's heat and the possibility of a meager appetite for lunch and dinner, it is wise to have breakfasts which furnish plenty of food for energy. Here are a few such breakfasts:

Bacon slices with scrambled eggs, toast, fresh peaches and coffee.
Creamed left-over lamb, veal or pork served on baking powder biscuits or toast slices, chilled melon balls and coffee.
Fried ham slices, toast, orange slices and coffee.
Sausages and waffles with maple syrup, fresh berries and coffee.
Ham omelet, toast, grapefruit cup and coffee.

TOMATO LOAF SALAD

Three cups tomato juice.
One small onion, grated.
One teaspoon sugar.
Salt and pepper.
Two tablespoons gelatin.
One-half cup water.
One cup chopped boiled ham.
One teaspoon prepared mustard
Mayonnaise.
One cup cream cheese.
Two tablespoons sour cream.
One-half teaspoon salt.
Simmer tomato juice, onion and sugar for five minutes and add salt and pepper. Soak gelatin in cold water for five minutes and dissolve in hot mixture. Divide into three equal parts. While this is cooling,

Pork Chops, Florentine.
Dredge six pork chops with flour and season with salt and pepper. Sear both sides in frying pan; remove the heat and cook 20 minutes. Put a layer of hot, cooked spinach in an oven casserole and arrange the chops on top. Mix one and one-half cups of hot whitesauce with two beaten egg yolks. Pour sauce over chops and spinach and sprinkle with grated cheese and cracker crumbs. Place in a hot oven or under broiler to melt cheese and slightly brown crumbs.

HERE'S ONE WAY TO GET HOT WATER

It's "penny wise and pound foolish" to try and heat water with old-fashioned, inefficient, inconvenient methods when St. Louis dealers are making special low prices and easy terms on

AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATERS

These efficient, modern heaters bring you the luxurious comfort and convenience of instant hot water the moment you turn the faucet. And the supply is plentiful, 24 hours a day. An abundant, automatic hot water supply is one of the most practical conveniences of modern living, yet the cost is but a few cents a day. You could hardly spend a few pennies a day for anything that would pay you bigger dividends in health, comfort and genuine joy of living than an automatic hot water service.

Watch the newspapers for your dealer's advertisement announcing special bargain prices on numerous sizes, styles and makes of AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATERS.

SUBSTANTIAL SALAD MAKES BUFFET MEAL

Wide Choice of Ingredients Has Even Wider Appeal to Appetite.

Crisp, sparkling salads are a joy all the year, but they are especially appreciated during this season. They seem to reflect coolness and take our thoughts to woodland shadows rather than to the hot kitchen.

A rather substantial salad makes an ideal main course at dinner. If it is carefully planned most of the preparation can be done in the morning and the salad put in the refrigerator for thorough chilling. Then at dinner time it takes only a moment to have a cool and appetizing meal, attractively garnished, ready to serve.

Wide Choice.
The choice of salads is increasingly wider each year and can be varied if the salad-maker has imagination. So many things are used in delicious combination that never have been set down in a cook book. Each one of us knows that her most successful salad creations are on-fourth inspiration and three-fourths ingredients, and that the ability to put things together with the stamp of her own personality is invaluable. The woman who can devise unusual and individual salads is fortunate, and her family is doubly so.

For those of you who feel that your mind has been squeezed dry of salad ideas, here are a few suggestions which may revive your summer meals. These salads can be the central part of a refreshing plate dinner, easily prepared and willingly eaten. Try them on your family and watch the appreciative reception they will get. The last menu given appeals especially to men, and could do double duty. Serve it at a home dinner or at a summer buffet where the men are to be pleased.

CAULIFLOWER MAY BE SERVED IN MANY WAYS

Cauliflower may be just another vegetable to many housewives but to those who know, it may be served in a great many interesting ways. Cauliflower With Mushroom Sauce. One large head cauliflower. Salt. One tablespoon butter. One and one-half tablespoons flour.

One can cream of mushroom soup. One thin slice of dry toast, finely crumbled.

One-quarter cupful grated American cheese. Remove the lower leaves from cauliflower and allow water to flow over it to remove dust. Cut bottom of stem off smoothly so the head will stand upright in kettle. Place about an inch of water in kettle, cover and steam 15 minutes, or until tender but yet firm. A few minutes before cooking is completed, sprinkle generously with salt. Drain, cut away remaining leaves and lower stem, and place in center of heated serving dish. Melt butter in saucepan, add flour and blend well. Add soup and cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Pour this sauce over the cauliflower, and sprinkle with toast crumbs and cheese which have been combined. Serves five.

Pickled Pearl Onions
French Bread
Melon Slices
Beverage

Cucumber Boat Salad. Three cucumbers. Two tomatoes. One-half cup chopped celery. One teaspoon salt. One-eighth teaspoon pepper. One teaspoon chopped onion. Chill cucumbers and tomatoes. Pare cucumbers. Cut in halves lengthwise. Remove pulp from centers, being careful not to break the outside. Peel tomatoes, cut in cubes and drain off juice. Mix the cucumber pulp, tomatoes, celery, salt, pepper and onion and moisten with French dressing. Fill the cucumber halves with this mixture and arrange on crisp leaves of romaine or lettuce. Garnish with parsley. Serve with dressing.

BEEF A LA MODE

Two pounds flank steak. One-half cup flour. Salt and pepper. Two tablespoons fat. One can mixed vegetables. One cup coarsely chopped onions. Two tablespoons chopped parsley. One cup tomato soup. One cup bread crumbs. Pound the flour into the steak and season with salt and pepper. Cook for 30 minutes in the hot fat and then transfer the steak to a casserole. Cover with vegetables and soup and sprinkle the bread crumbs over the top. Bake in a moderate oven 40 minutes and serve from the casserole.

END THE FEEL-PUNK, DRAG-FOOT DAYS

Dull headaches, poor appetite, sleeplessness are warning signs. You feel low—hate to work. These symptoms may point to constipation due to "low-bulk" meals.

Why throw these days out of your life—particularly when regular habits make you feel so good. Get "bulk" by eating a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

There's nothing experimental about ALL-BRAN. Millions of people have used it successfully. Scientific tests prove it is safe and effective. Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Stubborn cases may require ALL-BRAN often. Serve as a cereal, or cook into delicious recipes.

What an improvement over pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN is a food—you buy it at the grocery store. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

EVERY DAY LOW PRICES

AND THAT MEANS EVERY DAY!

You Simply Overwhelmed Us...

THANK YOU We're thrilled beyond words, the way you thronged all our stores during our opening celebration. You repaid us a thousand-fold for sincere effort.

In announcing "Every Day Low Prices" as a plan of action, I promise you a value leadership that brings Greater St. Louis a new era in food retailing.

I believe that intelligent people are "fed up" with bargains on Saturday and "lacked up" prices the following Monday.

At Wearen's all prices are plainly rubber-stamped on every package or can throughout every store. Read the scores of items in our ads and see the hundreds more in our stores.

After all—is there any excuse for paying 24c on Monday for a can of coffee that sold for 21c the Saturday before? I don't think so. That's why, whether you shop Monday or Saturday... Tuesday or Friday, at Wearen's the plainly stamped price, means the lowest price consistent with maximum value-giving.

This is no catch phrase. There are over two thousand money saving prices plainly stamped and I urge you to COMPARE!!

THE TRANSFORMATION OF TOMMY
READ HOW IT HAPPENED....

...AND JACK SAYS IT'S REALLY UP TO ME, BUT WHAT IN THE WORLD CAN I DO, MYRA?
WELL, IF I WERE YOU, RUTH, I'D TRY PUTTING HIM ON OVALTINE. IT'S REALLY MARVELOUS THE WAY IT HELPS SO MANY CHILDREN WHO HAVEN'T ANY APPETITE...
OVALTINE? YOU MEAN THE SWISS FOOD-DRINK?
YES, AND IT'S A WONDERFUL WEIGHT-BUILDER, TOO. I'VE SEEN DOZENS OF YOUNGSTERS WHO'VE GAINED A POUND A WEEK AFTER THEY STARTED TAKING IT.

STILL LATER
I'VE GOT TO GIVE YOU CREDIT, THOMPSON. YOU'VE CERTAINLY BROUGHT UP ONE MUSKY YOUNGSTER THERE!
LOOK AT TOMMY!
HURRAY FOR TOMMY!
SOME KID, ISN'T HE? BUT THAT'S HIS MOTHER'S DOING, NOT MINE!
THANKS TO OVALTINE.

WHAT'S THE MATTER, TOMMY? WHY DON'T YOU GO OVER THERE WITH THE REST OF THE KIDS?
AW, THEY WON'T PLAY WITH ME. THEY SAY I'M TOO LITTLE AND SKINNY.

THAT AFTERNOON
OVALTINE, PLEASE.
SOME TIME LATER
GOSH, IS THAT ALL THE CARCASS THERE ARE LEFT?
WHY TOMMY, YOU'VE HAD TWO BIG HELPINGS ALREADY!
SAY YOUNG FELLOW, IF YOU KEEP EATING LIKE THIS, YOU'LL HAVE US IN THE POOR-HOUSE.

IF YOUR CHILD EATS POORLY OR CAN'T BUILD UP, TRY OVALTINE AND SEE WHAT A SURPRISING DIFFERENCE IT MAY MAKE!
MOTHERS! For your information, Ovaltine is a delicious pure food concentrate, first created in Switzerland and now made over here. It has been approved by thousands of doctors—and is used in 54 different countries today. It is particularly noted for the remarkable increases in weight, strength and nerve poise which so frequently occur when it is added to the daily diet of a child. In addition—thousands of nervous people, men and women, use Ovaltine to restore vitality when fatigued. It is also highly recommended as a strengthening food for nursing mothers, convalescents, and the aged—and for sleeplessness when taken as a hot drink just before going to bed. Ovaltine is very inexpensive to serve—and can be obtained at all drug and grocery stores. You simply give it mixed with milk—either hot or cold—and children love its delicious taste.

SAY, HE IS THIN, RUTH. I WAS TWICE AS BIG AT HIS AGE. YOU REALLY OUGHT TO DO SOMETHING TO BUILD HIM UP!
GOODNESS KNOWS I'VE TRIED EVERYTHING, JACK. THE TROUBLE IS HE SIMPLY WON'T EAT!

STILL LATER
I TELL YOU, RUTH, THE WAY THAT OVALTINE IS BUILDING HIM UP, IT'S WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD.
LOOK DAD, ANOTHER 2 POUNDS!
YES AND ONE OF THE MOST MARVELOUS THINGS ABOUT IT IS THE FACT THAT IT REALLY COSTS SO LITTLE!

NEW APPEAL IN HANATONKA SUIT AGAINST UNION ELECTRIC

Snyder Estate, Awarded $200,000, Takes Bagnell Dam Case to U. S. Appeals Court.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 17.—

The legal fight over the damage caused to the Hanatanka estate in Camden County by construction of Bagnell Dam was renewed today

when an attorney for the

Snyder Estate Co. appealed a $200-

000 Federal District Court award to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The award, against the Union

Electric Light & Power Co. of St.

Louis, was made to heirs of Robert

M. Snyder by a jury here on Feb.

22, 1935. It was $150,000 less than a previous Federal Court award made at Jefferson City, which was appealed to the power company.

The Appellate Court reversed the first verdict and sent the case back for rehearing.

The Snyder Estate Co. was given a condemnation award of $144,413 originally, which was paid, with the agreement it would be deducted if any larger damages were decided on by court action.

ADMITTS KILLING WIFE AND BURYING BODY

Trenton (N. J.), Musician.
Leads Police to Grave in Cellar of Home.

By the Associated Press.
TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 17.—Ramon Cota, 45-year-old musician, led police yesterday to a rude grave in the cellar of his home and there they found the body of his wife, missing three months.

Taken into custody Monday and subjected to questioning ever since, Cota was quoted by Police Chief Richard Bretzel of Hamilton Township as confessing he killed his wife, "partly accidentally and partly in self-defense."

The chief said Cota told police his 51-year-old wife, Emily, carrying a butcher knife, and an unidentified man, brandishing a piece of pipe, entered his bedroom June 14 and ordered him off the premises.

Cota said he threw a machinist's hammer, which he was using to repair a clock, and it struck his wife on the forehead, knocking her over the stair railing.

Grave Five Feet Deep.
The body, with a blanket around it, was fully clothed, except for shoes. The cellar grave was five feet deep. Above the left ear was a three-inch hole. County Physician Charles H. Mitchell gave the cause of death as a compound fracture of the skull, caused by external violence.

The Cotas were married May 11, 1935, at Doylestown, Pa., but police said they were investigating his story he had gone through a marriage ceremony with a woman in Huntville, Ala., and another in New York City.

Police questioned a 22-year-old woman who they said was reported to have gone to Cota's home many evenings. Neighbors said there were gay times in the Cota home, that Cota was proficient with every musical instrument, and a young woman friend would sing as he played.

at a wire factory, where she was employed since 1900, was retired a few years ago on a $30 a month pension.

Exposed by Forged Checks.
Police investigation of what purported to be the signature of the missing woman on two pension checks led to Cota's arrest. Police said Cota told them he traced her handwriting on transparent paper and then transferred it to the pension checks.

Police said Cota was unemployed and that difficulties between him and his wife arose over her property. One officer said Mrs. Cota had sold a house and disposed of some of her stock during the past year. Her holdings of $10,000 were reported gone.

Cota, who police say is also known as Orby A. Hetchcoat of Huntsville, Ala., stood in silence last night as his attorney entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of murder in recorder's court. He was also accused of an offense involving 20-year-old Mary Miller, who police said moved into the Cota home shortly after the disappearance of his wife. Miss Miller was freed in $300 bail.

Police said army records showed Cota, or Hetchcoat as he was then known, was a deserter. He enlisted at Huntsville, Ala., in Dec., 1925, deserted at Fort Hamilton, N. Y., in March, 1934, and was discharged "for the good of the service" in February, 1935.

HEARINGS SEPT. 23-24 ON 19 LIQUOR LICENSE CASES

Nine Dealers in State Charged With Selling Intoxicants on 3.2 Beer Permit.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 17.—Revocation hearings for 19 liquor dealers on charges of violating Missouri's laws will be held by E. J. Becker, State Liquor Control Supervisor, here Sept. 23-24. Nine of the dealers are charged with selling intoxicating liquor on a 3.2 per cent beer license, and seven others are accused of selling intoxicants on Sunday.

Ten of the hearings, all charging sales of intoxicants under a 3.2 beer permit, will be heard the first day.

Defendants are: J. C. Brown of Pineville, Hugh Proctor of Southwest City, Clyde Schroeder of Odessa, R. C. White of Lone Jack, Homer Ryland, also of Lone Jack, Leslie Evans of Jefferson City, William Bayless of Rolla, Beulah Smith of Salem and Pete Ellis of New Madrid.

Charges of selling intoxicants on Sunday will be heard Sept. 24.

Noguchi's Service.
A Good Example.
It Sold for $700.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(Copyright, 1935.)
HIDEYO NOGUCHI, who gave his life to fight yellow fever in Africa, will inspire many men. He was born of a proud, warlike race, intensely self-centered, for 2000 years a hermit people. The loyalty of a Japanese was to family, clan, above all to the Emperor representing his race. The rest of the world was nothing to him.
Born one generation after Japan opened her doors to the world, Noguchi felt the new spirit of the times. He was loyal to family, clan, Emperor, race, but he was devoted chiefly to all humankind.
From boyhood to the last, through poverty and many perils, he studied how to wipe out disease. He discovered the germ of yellow fever, developed serums to prevent the fever or cure it, led in the work that has driven it out of America and will soon put an end to it throughout the world.

Yellow fever killed countless millions of all peoples. Noguchi's skill and devotion have saved the lives of millions too many to estimate, most of them foreigners to whom his forefathers would have paid no attention, calling them "hei-min," or "no-folks."

Noguchi's self-sacrifice to human welfare sets an example that is sure to be followed. Perhaps, in time, most men will see that it is better to help one another than to kill or even rob one another.

It is said the Hackensack Indians sold to the white men for so many bars of lead, and some finery worth altogether $700, land on which now stands the entire city of Newark, N. J., and a great deal of land beyond.
The poor Hackensack chief, with his $700, couldn't buy today enough land for a tight grave at the corner of Broad and Market streets in Newark. Land goes up wonderfully.

And don't forget this: There are just as good bargains today in real estate and in other things as the bargain the white men got when they bought Newark from the Indians. Empty fields will be cities; intersections of country lanes will some day carry skyscrapers.
But you must know how and where to choose. Don't use somebody else's judgment, use yours. If you haven't any, don't buy.

DENTAL OFFICE ON TRAILER
FOR CHILDREN IN INDIANA

Those on Relief Who are Between 3 and 10 Will Get Free Attention.

By The Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 17.—The State of Indiana is sending a streamlined trailer dental office on the road to give needy children sound teeth.

The trailer, equipped with "dental chair, laboratory, sterilizer, work bench, instrument cabinet, hot and cold running water, clothes closet, leather divan and lighting facilities, has been planned jointly by the Indiana State Dental Association and the State Bureau of Child and Maternal Health.

Thousands of children between three and 10 years old whose parents are on relief are to get dental attention. The trailer is to work only in smaller towns where clinics are not available.

Services are to be limited to prophylaxis, cement and amalgam fillings and extractions.

MASS DEMONSTRATION OF FIRE-WALKING IN CEYLON

600 Persons Step Barefooted on Glowing Embers; Doctors Find No Burns.

COLOMBO, Ceylon, Sept. 17.—In a mass demonstration of fire-walking, 600 persons, including a woman, walked barefooted across a seven-foot pit of glowing embers here. Government doctors witnessed the performance. After the ceremony, on examining the fire-walkers' feet, they found not a single burn or blister.

Prayers and a ceremony of purification preceded the fire-walking, which began at midnight. The leader, with a pot of holy water on his head and peacock feathers in his hands, slowly began the march across the red-hot coals while the others followed with folded hands. The embers could be plainly seen in the darkness, smoldering up around their heels.

HOLLYWOOD GLAMOR Gives New SMARTNESS TO THE YOUNGER SET

Debutantes of New York and Elsewhere Challenge the Supremacy of the Film Colony in Feminine Charms.

By LEONARD HALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.

WITHIN the past year a new race has bloomed along that deep and devious New York canyon called Park avenue to challenge the supremacy of Hollywood's lovely sisters. It is the elastic collection of alluring maidens known as Gotham's Glamor Girls.

They are by the film colony out of the social register. The cream of the deb and post-deb—starry-eyed, smartly toggled, some of them slightly Hollywood-daffy and often in range of the cameras of Jerome Zerbe, Cecil Beaton and other white-tied shutter-snappers. They elevate the Old Guard's eyebrows on the sacred sands of Bailey's Beach, and relax against the zebra-skinned seats of El Morocco for the benefit of the Sunday society-sections. They have pepped up our nifty Younger Set till you wouldn't know the old gang.

As the senior Glamor Girls marry their Dream Men, and quietly remove themselves from circulation, each crop of debutantes catapults two or three of its prettiest, peppiest members into the ranks. A girl who has her picture snapped with affable young Alfred G. Vanderbilt, the Catch of the Century, automatically becomes a member. Thus pretty and talented Katherine Barker, of the Easthampton Barkers, became a four-star Glamor Girl this summer as she shared the heady delights of the Saratoga season with the wealthy young horseman.

And who are some of these blithe maidens who now drip glamour about the chrome cocktail lounges, the sands of the Atlantic Beach Club and the soignée free-for-alls of their crowd?

WELL, one of the young veterans of the Glamor Girl Brigade is the very lovely Whitney Bourne, whose deathless ambition to succeed on the stage and screen keeps her social mother in a state of suppressed frenzy. Whitney is now exhibiting her blonde beauty in a British movie and in London's gayer social circles, and shows no signs of returning to her native locale for some time. Whitney forms another link between the wonder-worlds of the theater and the screen and the purely non-professional Glamor Girls. Oddly and sadly, La Belle Bourne's exceptional attitude, with her head practically in the clouds, has operated against her success in show business, as it is difficult to find a juvenile who doesn't have to climb on a chair to give her a big kiss.

Another Park avenue girl of the ilk who has turned pro and now switches on her glamor for a fee is the peachy Mary Taylor, daughter of Bertrand and niece of the di Frasso, who appeared in a Hecht and MacArthur film and whose face and figure often appear in the pages of the fancier fashion journals exhibiting the latest little numbers from Vionnet and Alt.

Virginia French, sister to the "Tucky" French who married young John Jacob Astor, is pronounced by many competent critics to be the prettiest of the lot. Another charmer is Lesley Bogert. Miss Lesley was ardently courted, last year, by Prince Paul, that noble Russian who has been toiling for a living in the pay of a huge and smart Fifth avenue dandyporium. Still another leading light of this particular batch is the beauteous Eileen Gillespie, who once rocked dear old Newport by breaking her engagement to Mr. Astor.

This Newport detachment of the Glamor Brigade has caused a lot of furious chair-rocking and tut-tutting among the Grande Dames of Society's Coney Island by their injection of a little high-class ginger and pep into the somewhat stuffy life of the place. They have dared to rush around demanding a swimming pool for the tacky Bailey's Beach, and they have horrified their elders by wearing shorts while batting tennis balls about. But the young ladies, confident and secure in their lavish endowments of youth and beauty, have gone right on having fun, in spite of the gasps and finger-pointings of age.

The summer's debut in Newport in-Eileen S. S. Gillespie . . . another leading light.

Mrs. Whitney Bourne . . . a link with the screen.

Dorothy Fell . . . "prominent in the sociality."

Clothes Styles And Furniture
By Elizabeth Boykin

A SOFA looks like such an obvious idea. It's a simple, comfortable and friendly piece of furniture, and we can't be too envious of life in the days before sofas were thought of. There have been wooden benches and settees for a long time, but they were hard straight uncomfortable affairs. The upholstered sofa didn't come in style till about 1600.

Upholstering itself hadn't been common much before then. There had been cushioned seats of various types, but real upholstering didn't become general till the time of Queen Elizabeth. Little cloth-covered sofas came after chairs of course.

One reason for so many chairs without arms in those days was that costumes were so stiff and voluminous that they never have fitted into a chair with arms. As for sinking down in a downy sofa of this day and age . . . well, a lady couldn't have gotten out again because of all her skirts and corsets and a gentleman would have gotten into difficulty with his tight breeches! So it's just as well that those old timers didn't know the meaning of the term overstuffed as applied to furniture. . . . though they demonstrated it very well as far as persons were concerned.

Thus must fashions in clothes and furnishings go hand in hand. The simple casual clothes of today are made for lounging, so lounge furniture we get. They do say that men quit wearing silk hats when they started to ride in automobiles—because they were always banging them getting in and out.

OLD JUDGE COFFEE
SETTLES THE QUESTION

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION
By Martha Carr

My dear Mrs. Carr: I AM just a girl asking you for some information. My mother is in the hospital and there are seven children in the family. My oldest sister only has her own clothes. I am very poor and I come home from school and there is always a lot of laundry to do. And I have to do a little dusting in the house. I am a little girl, I am 11 years old, who admit that she is younger than I am, but when I was her age I scrubbed floors and ironed, too. Don't you think something ought to be done about this?

JUST A KID.

Well, yes, I think something ought to be done. Wouldn't it be possible for you to take a half hour rest and play, regularly, when you come from school before you begin the ironing? You need at least that much freedom and I suspect that it is the boredom of evening that is the hardest part of the day for you. You are coming right home to the same old thing that makes you so fatigued when you leave school to go home. So I believe a little play out of doors is absolutely necessary for you if you do not get it.

And your sister is pretty young; if she likes a certain game for two tell her if she will help you a little you will go out with her. Learn to make something pretty at school or make a friend, then tell the little sister if she wants to learn how to make it too, she must help you so you will have the time to teach her. Learn some new games and keep her interested.

But, of course, now while your mother is sick, you will be all the more careful not to disturb her with frowns and unhappiness and being dissatisfied. Of course if she will speak to both your sisters and say you think they might be more considerate—but not with a frowning face; nothing would be worth disturbing her now with complaints or fussing.

Dear Mrs. Carr: THIS is a bit unusual for your column, but I hope you can print it soon and relieve my mind. I am only a plain cook, but a good cook and housekeeper. I have just secured work in a lunch room where we serve about 60 persons; mostly plate lunches. There are really many things I would like to do better, such as preparing 12 or 13 pound roasts and also different vegetables for the trade. Also to make good desserts. My employer wants to make a good lunch room cook out of me and I am very anxious to be the one as it is the only work I can get now.

I want to keep this man's business going and see it get better every day. If any of your experienced readers can give advice it would mean a lot to me in my humble position. I really must improve my menu to keep this job.

Mrs. Carr, I hope this letter will do some good as it will keep my home going, too. T. H.

Every Thursday the Post-Dispatch publishes much interesting information of this kind on its "Home Economics" page. Then there are excellent cook books which give you, accurately, the temperature and time it takes for every edible.

If you will send me self-addressed, stamped envelope I shall be glad to mail you a canning time table and many suggestions on what to serve.

My dear Mrs. Carr: PERHAPS you can help me. I want to adopt a baby. I will never have any children and we have a good home which we own, a good car, corn, hogs, chickens and ducks. I can give a baby a good home. I'd like a very young baby. I will come to St. Louis to get the baby, personally, if you happen to know of any. M. F.

I believe it would be best for you to write first to some of the orphan's homes or to the Children's Aid Society, 338 Westminister place, to St. Ann's Foundling Home, 3300 Page avenue. They will tell you what your requirements and obligations will be and just how to arrange it.

Dear Mrs. Carr: I WOULD like to know the names of the 12 members of President Roosevelt's cabinet and the name and position they hold. Thank you. A. J. K.

At your corner drug store or any book department you can buy a "World Almanac for 1936" which will give you the information and also other details for which I would not have space. If you cannot buy it, go to your nearest library where the information will be given to you.

Dear Mrs. Carr: MY cousin and I have a problem which we would like you to help us decide. Each of us have a girl friend of whom we are very fond, and these girl friends

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. ## A Child Should Learn to Care For His Books

Libraries Essential in One's Education and Volumes Must Not Be Abused.

By Angelo Patri

BOOKS are worth caring for, and children should be taught from the time they take hold of their first picture book how to use and not abuse.

"Are your hands clean?" makes us older ones smile in memory of days when books were scarce and precious, and our anxious mothers inspected our hands before we touched the books. It is still a good question to ask and have answered positively. Clean hands should be extended toward clean books. Dirt is easy to set on the clean page and very difficult to remove. "Clean hands" is the first rule of the library.

Books ought not to be used for "ladders," or as chairs. You no doubt have seen them pressed into service for both purposes. "Just put a couple of books on the chair and stand on them," or "Make a pile of books for him to sit on. The chair is too low. Sitting on old Webster's Unabridged, or the big Family Bible, on high occasions did little harm, but even those sturdy warriors will show wear if used daily instead of a high chair.

Laying a book face down is a bad way to preserve its shape and protect the stitching. A book is bound together by stitches and glue, and while they are strong enough for any bookish purpose they will not stand unusual and cruel strains. Laying a book face down strains the binding, the stitching and the glue. Why not close it and put the book mark where you need it? Then put it on the shelf where it ought to be. More books are spoiled because somebody left them where the pup could get them, or where the children could reach them, or where the shower could drench them, than need be. Put the book in its place. If it was worth buying it was surely worth caring for.

Children use school books roughly. The ideal would be to have each child buy his text books each term and own them. They would be helpful to him in years to come, be a source of pleasant memories and a prized possession in his old age. As things are, books are passed from child to child, and unless they are cared for by each in turn they become soiled, dog-eared, unattractive heaps of flopping paper. Boys throw them at each other, girls and boys lay them on the sidewalks and play hop-scotch over them. Books should call for more respectful treatment than this.

The libraries that do so much for school children deserve better co-operation in the matter of care for books than they get. Children take out books, lay them beside them as they eat their lunches, or even their meals at home, and the results are deplorable. Books should never be on the table where people are eating. No child should read and eat at the same time. That is only one of the abuses library books suffer. Pictures are cut from them. Covers are torn off. They are left carelessly about and lost. They are passed from child to child until nobody knows who had them last. And libraries are essential to the education of children. They are offered freely. A decent regard for the privileges of the library should compel us to take better care of the books that cost so much in money and labor.

Angelo Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Steps Saved

If articles that are used together are kept together much extra walking will be saved the housewife. All cleaning things should be in the same place, the bread box and board in close proximity, the tea, strainer and pot close to each other. Try this out and see for yourself.

Puddle Muddlers Shame Galumps For Taking Jar

By Mary Graham Bonner

THE Galumps had not got along very far from Willy Nilly's when Christopher Columbus Crow had discovered them. And soon Willy Nilly came running down from the cave, followed by the lumbering bears.

Sweet Face, the lamb, came hurrying over from his meadow at the sound of Christopher's excited crow-voice. Rip, the dog, jumped out of one of the top windows, and the ducks were all on their way to join the others. Top Notch, the rooster, was cackling with curiosity. No! what had Christopher Columbus Crow discovered?

"Look what Grandma Grouchy Galump has!" cawed Christopher. "Oh, I don't know what got into me," cried Grandma.

"You're a thief. That's what you are! And I discovered it! You've stolen Willy Nilly's favorite jar!" cawed Christopher. They could not understand just what he was saying, but they trembled at the anger in his crow voice.

"Shall I peck at them, Willy Nilly? And they have the nerve to call me a thief! I never went into people's houses when they were away! I've taken a bite of corn once in awhile as my payment for eating grubs."

Grandma was sobbing. She kept crying over and over again:

"The whole neighborhood will know of this. Everyone all over the countryside will hear of it."

"You want to be wicked but you want to be thought an angel," cawed Christopher angrily.

"I'll give it back to you at once!" sobbed Grandma.

"You'd better!" cawed Christopher. But Willy Nilly had a thought. It was one that pleased him.

ARTLESS MODEL

A Short Serial

By LOUISE HOLMES

Cynthia Scores Another Victory in Her
Contest with Gloria and Plays a Trick —A Telephone Call.

CHAPTER TEN.

THE next afternoon Clement took Cynthia to Stephen's party. Martie refused point blank to go. She had nothing to wear, she said, and she wouldn't waste an afternoon on Gloria Gray's crowd. Cynthia wore a pink dress. She had bought it the day after seeing Gloria get out of the limousine with Stephen, and its utter impracticability for Cedar Point had weighed not at all in its selection. But Gloria had weighed heavily. The purchase of the gown had been a gesture of defiance to Gloria's lovely trailing clothes, her poise and sophistication.

It was the shade of pink to be found on the inside of a shell, the skirt a slim sheath which burst into a mass of rosy foam around her feet. It was severely high necked and long-sleeved, and in it Cynthia was so young and fresh and deceptively simple that poise and sophistication were a lost art beside her. With it she wore a wide transparent hat of turquoise blue and her small high heeled sandals were of a matching shade. It was extraordinary, it was subtle; worn by Cynthia it surpassed description.

Purposely she and Clement arrived late at the cocktail party. Cynthia had no interest in the gathering. She simply and unaffectedly wanted, for a few minutes, to outshine Gloria Gray. That this might not be an admirable ambition bothered her not at all.

As they entered the studio Cynthia found Stephen the center of a noisy group. Gloria stood close to his elbow. He was staring at Cynthia and Gloria also stared. Then she tugged at Stephen's arm and laughed and said something, but he shook himself free and went to meet Cynthia and Clement. Gloria followed.

"Hello—hello! I was afraid you weren't coming." He shook Clement's hand but kept his eyes on Cynthia. Putting his hand on her arm, he piloted her among the guests. "Cynthia Lambert," he kept repeating proudly.

People crowded around. This was the girl who had posed for Stephen's wonderful picture. Eagerly she acknowledged his casual introductions.

And Cynthia smiled; her dimple came and went in the most captivating manner; her eyes laughed, they beckoned to her, held him breathlessly entranced. She knew Gloria stood on the other side of him. She knew Gloria was furious. Her heart beat, her eyes danced, she was intoxicated with her own magic.

Yang Foo passed cocktails and everyone was friendly and funny over Cynthia's lemons—everyone except Gloria. She was heard to mutter something about "the little fool trying to make an impression."

Later Stephen, still in the throes of masculine pride at having discovered this priceless treasure, still with his hand possessively on her arm, made a fatal error.

"Gloria has asked 'the crowd downtown for dinner. Won't you and Clement come?' He was joyously eager. 'It wouldn't be a party without the artist's model, would it, Gloria?'"

Quietly she went inside. About to call, she was arrested by the sight of Stephen and Gloria. They stood side by side against the great north studio window. Gloria held Stephen by the lapels of his coat. Her face was lifted to his. As Cynthia watched, not breathing, unable to move, Gloria's hands went around Stephen's neck.

But the amazing thing was Ste-

When she stepped into the closet, she didn't love Gloria, but he was helpless against her. Cynthia knew at as well as if he had told her; believing herself of Stephen's hands could have been as convincing as his gesture. Cynthia turned to go, then swiftly crossed the corner of the little hall and went into his bedroom.

What she was doing she could not have said. Something drove her on, an elemental passion that had nothing to do with Roger—not even with herself—tore at her heart. Gloria should not have Stephen. One moment of consideration and her impulse would have shattered, but there was no place for consideration in her whirling brain. In a fever of haste she slipped into the closet, then opened the door which led from Stephen's bedroom to the studio. Her hair was tumbled; she had put on a long Chinese robe over her dress.

Gloria sat in the big wing chair. She had just taken a compact from her open purse and was delicately touching her nose with a tiny puff when she saw Cynthia. She stopped, puff raised, and stared. Stephen sat opposite her on the couch; he also had turned questioning when Cynthia noisily opened the bedroom door. He started to rise but hesitated in stunned amazement.

Cynthia said, "Oh, I beg your pardon," in a low, surprised voice, but instead of retreating she slowly walked toward them.

Slowly she went to Stephen. She sat down beside him, curled her legs under her and leaned her head against his. She was arrested by the sight of Stephen and Gloria. They stood side by side against the great north studio window. Gloria held Stephen by the lapels of his coat. Her face was lifted to his. As Cynthia watched, not breathing, unable to move, Gloria's hands went around Stephen's neck.

But the amazing thing was Stephen. His arms were at his sides, his head thrown back; he looked stern and at the same time compassionate. As Cynthia stood there, rooted to the Persian rug, Gloria's hands pressed the back of Stephen's head and slowly he kept until her pleading lips met his. With a sort of hopeless surrender he put his arms around her.

Dedication of Day to Honor Constitution

By the Rev. J. F. Newton

IN a lumber camp in the West a group of radical lumberjacks—men from the ends of the land—was discussing one evening the awful state of the world and the wickedness of states.

They agreed, unanimously, that our Government is all wrong, if not actually rotten, a dirty, capitalistic conspiracy against the rights of the man who works. They said it ought to be made over.

Among them was a young minister, a missionary, who listened to their talk, and even drew it out at full length by the questions he asked. Finally, pretending to agree with their radical ideas, he wrote on a piece of paper the following as a basis for a just state:

"We, the people, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitu-

"That's the stuff!" they yelled. "Hit 'em again! If we had a Government built on that dope, every feller would have a square deal, and a chance to live a bit. Some head you have got, parson; go on and give us some more of your good sense."

"Listen, boys," said the mission-ary, "what I read is the preamble of the Constitution of the United States. If we tore everything to pieces and set out to make it all over, could we do a better job?"

The missionary himself told me the story, adding that as he listened to the talk of the evening—wild, passionate, bitter—he was half inclined to agree with it, until he began to consider how a better state could be constructed. As Hamilton put it:

"Justice is the end of Government. It is the end of civil society. It ever has been, and ever will be pursued until it is obtained, or until liberty be lost in the pursuit of it."

On this day, set apart in honor of our Constitution, let us dedicate ourselves anew to its ideal of liberty under law.

Some Little Odds Ended

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

WE are breaking up the summer camp today because summer is on the wane and only man is vile.

The question is what goes home with us, why, when, where and how. Among our souvenirs is a quart jar of grade A butterflies that were beautiful when captured, but are now deader than January's good intentions.

We have to put our archery outfit into quarantine while taking our winter whirl in Mayfair. Somehow or other it is best to hide the bows and arrows when the life of the party downs his fifth Scotch, turns his coat inside out, puts a feather duster down his neck and announces that he is Big Chief Geronimo, the scourge of the Rockies.

We are glad to get rid of the self-folding canvas canoe that had the outward appearance of a lifeboat, but with the inner inhibitions of a camp chair. While going over the falls of the Potomac in the third dimension the canoe suddenly discovered the fourth, and we were rescued by a troop of boy scouts who did one good deed too many that day.

There is nothing more beautiful than a gigantic beach umbrella in all its pristine glory and magnificence. It was about the size of a Chautauqua tent and accommodated a small intelligent group of 80 comparative strangers who appreciated shade at reduced rates. We left in the umbrella in the sand for the winter storms to larrup and for the rudes to take away forever and a day.
